

The Kingston Daily Freeman

FOUNDED IN 1871.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 5, 1926.

PRICE FOUR CENTS.

Body of Dead Man Identified

Body of Man Found at Wallingford, Conn., Wednesday Now Known to Be That of Robert Di Molini of Long Island City.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 5.—Robert Di Molini, of Long Island City, known also as "The Dixie Kid," is, according to Coroner Eli Mix, the man whose dead body was found at Wallingford yesterday morning.

Di Molini, according to the coroner, is known to the police of New York as a "bootlegger and rum runner." He was 31 years old.

Di Molini's body was identified by his father who visited Wallingford this morning and viewed the remains in a morgue there. Then he came to New Haven and went into conference with Coroner Mix. After the interview, the coroner gave out a statement concerning the case.

France Will Delay Debt Settlement

American Settlement Will Not Be Presented to Parliament Until November—Will Wait Until Elections Have Been Held Here.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Premier Poincare has decided to delay submission of the American debt settlement to Parliament until the middle of November, a prominent member of the finance commission told the International News Service today.

The Premier is quoted as having told the commission that his secret intention is to postpone the discussion of the British agreement until after the recess of the Chamber of Deputies. The American settlement would be taken up shortly afterwards but not until the London pact is ratified and not until the American congressional elections are over, he said.

Crown Street Cafe Padlocked

The beverage cafe of Edward Barton, 66 Crown street, was padlocked this morning by a United States Marshal upon order of Judge Hand of the United States circuit court, Southern district.

The usual large placard announcing the padlocking by reason of violation of Volstead law, and others were posted on the glass of the door. The padlocking is for a period of six months dating from July 20. The fixtures were removed before the room was padlocked.

Mrs. Preston Fractures Wrist

Mrs. Charles M. Preston, who resides on Mill street, sustained a fracture of the left wrist Wednesday evening. The mishap occurred when Mrs. Preston alighted from the Port Even bus at Abel street and Broadway.

Mrs. Preston is said to have turned on her ankle and in the attempt to break her fall, put her arm out, resulting in the fracture.

She was taken into Greenwald's store at this point and later taken to the Benedictine Hospital where the fracture was reduced by Dr. Frank L. Eastman.

Again "Cleaning Up" Broadway

New York, Aug. 5.—Following a conference of police department and federal officials at which it was decided that "Broadway must be cleaned up," a series of raids were made on speakeasies in the Times Square district early today.

Forty prohibition agents and detectives took part in the raids. Twelve men and one woman, alleged proprietors of a dozen places visited, were arrested.

Liquor valued at $30,000 was seized.

Cremate Body of Noted Author

London, Aug. 5.—The body of Israel Zangwill, author and playwright, was cremated today at Golders Green.

Funeral services were conducted by Rabbi Stephen Wise and the ashes were interred in the Liberal Jewish cemetery.

Current Offerings

At the Kingston Theatre tonight for the last time the picture featuring Spanish days and nights of romance with Barbara La Marr and Lewis Stone playing the leading parts will be screened. "The Girl from Montmartre" is the title of this picture. "The Book" will be the other attraction.

"Up the Ladder," the feature picture at the Auditorium this evening, is a story of a woman who sacrificed and believed that her lover might achieve success but found that he worked only for social splendor. "The Day of the Day" is a comedy and the picture "Country Store" will also be shown.

Girl Drowned Near Marbletown

Six Year Old Child Struck In Eteopos Creek Without Attracting Attention of Companions—Parents Live at Woodhaven, Long Island.

The Eteopos creek claimed another life Wednesday when Magdaline Wassmuth, 6 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wassmuth of 8937 Beach street, Woodhaven, L. I., was drowned while bathing.

The little girl and several other children and adults were bathing in the creek near the former Webber farm in the town of Marbletown where they were boarding. The child went beyond her depth and before she was missed, drowned. Coroner W. Norman Conner was called and took charge of the body which was recovered a few minutes after the little girl had been missed. It was taken in charge by Mr. Conner who prepared it for shipment to the parents' home at Woodhaven, L. I., where funeral and interment will take place.

Dr. John F. Larkin of this city was called and hastened to the scene where artificial respiration was attempted but failed to be of use as the child was beyond aid when recovered from the water. The child had a weak heart and the shock of entering the cool water probably affected her heart so that she was unable to make any outcry or make any effort to save herself. She sank without attracting the attention of the other bathers in the stream.

Marlborough Fears For Railroad Station

Marlborough, Aug. 5.—The West Shore railroad is reducing the telegraph force in this district and Stephen Hines, who has been at the local station for about 20 years, has been laid off along with Henry Batch, an assistant operator who has worked for the company a considerable time. The station will now be in charge of Frank Snyder, who has been the agent for 35 years, and two other employees, one clerk and a janitor.

American Tourists Are Drenched With Water

Paris, Aug. 5.—Water and epithets greeted a party of tourists, mostly Americans, when they came out of the "Catacombs" last night, after a tour of inspection.

Residents who live near the "Catacombs" drenched the tourists with water and followed the water up with insulting remarks.

The police declare that the incident was not an anti-foreign demonstration but was merely the protest of residents who were annoyed because tourists had disturbed their sleep.

Rabbi Miller At Ahavath Israel

A special service will be held at the Synagogue Ahavath Israel, corner Wurts and Pierpont streets, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Rabbi Samuel Miller of Jersey City, N. J., son of the Rev. M. Miller of Kingston, who is visiting his parents, has been secured as the speaker for the occasion and the congregation extends a cordial invitation to the public.

The Rev. M. Balogh, assisted by the choir, will render special music.

Unable to Find Murder Suspect in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 5.—A twenty-four-hour search of the criminal haunts of Chicago has revealed no clue to the whereabouts of Pat McDermott, police announced today. McDermott is suspected as one of the alleged slayers of Don R. McMillan, Canton, Ohio, publisher.

The authorities announced, however, that they would continue the hunt.

New Grill at Elks' Club

There will be a gala night at the Elks' Club this evening as the new grill room on the lower floor will be thrown open for Elks only between the hours of 5 and 10 midnight. A buffet lunch is to be served. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday evening, August 12, at 8 o'clock.

White Plains Man Arrested

LeRoy, N. Y., Aug. 5.—A man was arrested on a charge of non-support of a minor child and brought to the Ulster county jail. The arrest was made at Lake Mohawk.

Accepts Offer Position.

Miss Dorothy, Treasurer of Elks' Club, died of 1925, Norman Russell School, Burlington, N. Y., has accepted a position as stenographic clerk at the New York State Institution for the Deaf, Kingston, N. Y.

One Charged in Crash

The car of Hattie Cole and Thomas Kearney collided at the corner of Wurts and N. Enter streets Wednesday. Both cars were damaged.

Unable to Find Escaped Convict

Convicted Head of Drug Ring Bolts Over Fence While Working in Garden—Had Been Model Prisoner.

East View, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Officials of the Westchester county penitentiary today had been unable to find a trace of Frank Martello of White Plains, convicted head of a drug ring which operated in New York and Connecticut, who escaped late yesterday afternoon.

Martello was working with a gang in the garden, within sight of the prison wall, when he made his successful bolt over the fence to freedom.

Warden McClellan said that he had proof that the escape was prearranged and that an automobile was waiting for him.

Martello had served two months of a year's term on a narcotic conviction. He had been a model prisoner, McClellan said.

Windmill Turns At Coolidge Home

Mrs. Coolidge Places One That Calvin Jr. Made Atop Garden Fence At Plymouth—Coolidges Will Probably Return to Adirondacks by Sunday.

Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 5.—A rudely fashioned wooden windmill is revolving slowly this morning atop the corner post of the garden fence just across the road from the Coolidge homestead and back of this play toy lies the eternal story of mother love and suffering.

The little windmill was fashioned by Calvin Coolidge, Jr., younger son of the president, when last he summered at the home of his grandfather here. He had first set it on its vantage point on the fence post and proudly displayed its working to his mother.

And now, on every visit to the farm, the toy is restored to its place by Mrs. Coolidge with a quiet ceremony that is almost ritualistic. A stone's throw away in the hillside burial ground the boy is buried, dead just two years and a month.

It was to visit the grave of their son and that of the President's father that Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge primarily returned to Plymouth. They walked down the road and placed new flowers on the graves in the family burial plot.

This little cross-road hamlet offers varying emotions to the President. Three years ago in the family parlor his father swore him in as chief magistrate of the nation under dramatic circumstances. When next he returned to his boyhood home it was to bring the body of his sixteen-year-old son. Two more visits followed, both occasioned by the fear his father was dying, and last March he returned to bury the dead Colonel in a blinding snow storm.

These conflicting emotions, pleasant and unpleasant, preclude the possibility of a prolonged stay at the Coolidge birthplace. It is possible Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will return to their Adirondack camp in time for church services on Sunday. Certainly they will leave for White Pine on Monday or Tuesday.

Boarder Missing From Woodstock

G. B. Reynolds of Woodstock reported to the police department that Otto Wagner is missing. Mr. Wagner was said to have been vacationing at Woodstock, coming from New York city about three weeks ago.

On Saturday, July 31, he left Woodstock and since that time no word has been received from him. Mrs. Wagner is at present stopping at Woodstock.

The local police from the district given learned that he arrived in Kingston on the bus on Saturday at 9 o'clock and was at the Elks Hotel at about 11 o'clock. No further information concerning his whereabouts was secured.

The description of the missing man is as follows: Height, six feet, weight, 150 pounds; He wore a straw hat and light gray suit and tan shoes. He had $25 in cash with him.

Twenty-Four Lives Lost As Brazilian Ship Sinks

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 5.—Twenty-four lives were lost when the Brazilian ship Lusitania was sunk off the coast north of Para it was reported today.

Many of the passengers and crew of the vessel were saved by the steamer Sao Pedro.

Four Men Killed

Strodsburg, Pa., Aug. 5.—Four men were killed when a train derailed at Strodsburg, Pa., today.

The train was carrying a large number of passengers and freight. The cause of the accident is being investigated.

Woman With Knife

Detroit, Aug. 5.—A woman was arrested today on a charge of carrying a knife.

The woman was found with a knife in her possession. She is being held for further investigation.

Man Killed in Crash

Strodsburg, Pa., Aug. 5.—A man was killed when a train derailed at Strodsburg, Pa., today.

The man was killed when the train derailed. The cause of the accident is being investigated.

Wadsworth Opens Campaign With Repeal Stand

Temperance Promoted Better By Control of Liquor Traffic Than By Unsuccessful Efforts to Enforce Total Abstinence, Says United States Senator, Up for Re-election.

New York, Aug. 5.—United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York was definitely on record today as being in favor of a repeal of the prohibition amendment and modification of the Volstead law.

Wadsworth, who comes up for re-election next fall, opened his campaign last night at a dinner tendered him here by the Republican Business Men, Inc., with a speech attacking the dry law. He declared that the prohibition amendment was out of harmony with the remainder of the Federal Constitution and that temperance could be promoted better by control of the liquor traffic than by an unsuccessful effort to enforce total abstinence.

Asserting that "the time and the issue will not tolerate pussyfooting," Senator Wadsworth demanded the repeal of the prohibition amendment, which he characterized as a "summary law" and declared that "the failure of enforcement was due to the fact that the law did not appeal to the public conscience. The present attempts at enforcement were worse than unsuccessful," he said, and caused in the general public a contempt for law.

"The government is doing its best to prevent people from getting a drink and most of the public is doing its best to get one," Wadsworth said. "The average man simply cannot regard taking a drink as a wrongful act."

Wadsworth credited the country's prosperity to President Coolidge and praised the work of the Republicans in Congress.

'Mystery Woman' Is Now Known

Mrs. Tenyson, Sister of Slain Choir Singer in Hall-Mills Murder, Thought to Be Woman Who Gave Simpson New Information Wednesday.

New Brunswick, N. J., Aug. 5.—The "mystery woman" whom Senator Alexander Simpson, in charge of the investigation, hopes will solve the Hall-Mills murder mystery, was identified today as Mrs. Augusta Tenyson, sister of the slain choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

It was learned from a reliable source that Mrs. Tenyson is the woman who called at Senator Simpson's offices in Jersey City yesterday and provided new clues to the double murder, which, Simpson said, may "break the case" within forty-eight hours.

Mrs. Tenyson's evidence, it is said on good authority, consists of positive identification of two persons she knows were eye-witnesses to the slaying under the crabapple tree on the Phillips farm, near here.

Mrs. Tenyson was found today at her home here. She refused to admit she was at Simpson's office yesterday and ordered newspapermen to leave the house.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Republicans to Meet Friday

The Republican County Convention will be held Friday morning, beginning at 11 o'clock at the Auditorium Theater. The purpose of the convention is to recommend to the enrolled Republicans the party's choice for the nomination for justice of the Supreme court, member of congress, state senator, surrogate member of assembly, sheriff, county superintendent of the poor and coroner.

The convention will also recommend candidates for the following party positions: Two members of state committee, fifteen delegates to attend the Republican State Convention to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York city on September 27, and five delegates and five alternate delegates to attend the judicial district convention.

Many Weapons in Midnight Fracas

Man Shows Evidence of Fists, Knives, Teeth and Club—Leaves Hospital After Treatment, Feeling "A Little Sick."

When Edward Baker left the Kingston City Hospital this morning, after having been treated at that institution for injuries received in a brawl, he presented a very painful sight, with severe cuts about his face, the back of his head swollen, both arms in horrible condition and cuts on his back.

Baker from his appearance was used rather roughly and varied implements were evidently used on him, including fists, knives, teeth and a club. Despite these injuries he was very active but admitted he felt a little sick. He also stated that he had been robbed.

The condition of Baker was the result of a melee which took place about midnight across the Laopos Creek Bridge. When the battle was in full swing, a nurse call was sent into the sheriff's office, but when the sheriff arrived there were but two men present, Baker and Robert Werts, colored, entering a taxicab. Werts was also treated at the hospital for minor bruises but left immediately after receiving medical attention.

There was no fight in progress when the sheriff arrived, and no arrests were made. Information obtained by the sheriff was to the effect that colored men accompanied by white men made remarks to a number of girls coming from the carnival and three white men, who had also been at the carnival, objected and the battle followed. The manager of the carnival stated to the sheriff that none of the men involved were members of the carnival company and that he had tried to separate the men in the fracas.

Information received at police headquarters stated that two whites and two blacks, employees of The Governor Clinton Hotel, were involved in the fight. Baker and Werts, who stated they were employed at The Governor Clinton Hotel, arrived at police headquarters seeking medical attention. They stated they were going to the carnival when the assault took place.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Three Slayers Must Die Soon

Governor Fuller Refuses to Interfere With Sentence of Court That Massachusetts Carban Slayers Must Die Next Week—To Hold Protest Meeting.

Boston, Aug. 5.—While the three urban slayers were being notified by Warden Hendry today that their last hope had failed, preparations were being made by their families and members of the Massachusetts Clemency Committee for a huge mass meeting on Boston Common in protest to Governor Fuller's refusal to interfere with the sentence of the court that the men must die.

John J. Devereaux, Edward J. Hennein and John J. McLaughlin went to bed in the death house at Charlestown state prison last night not knowing their days had been numbered by the Governor's refusal to commute their death sentences for the slaying of James A. Feneau, aged watchman at the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company's car barn in Waltham.

The news was broken to them today that shortly after midnight, some day next week, they must each take the short walk to the chair of death, there to expiate their part in the slaying of the aged watchman. Sorrowful mothers and other relatives visited them and tried to console them as tears streamed down their cheeks.

Many Weapons in Midnight Fracas

Man Shows Evidence of Fists, Knives, Teeth and Club—Leaves Hospital After Treatment, Feeling "A Little Sick."

When Edward Baker left the Kingston City Hospital this morning, after having been treated at that institution for injuries received in a brawl, he presented a very painful sight, with severe cuts about his face, the back of his head swollen, both arms in horrible condition and cuts on his back.

Baker from his appearance was used rather roughly and varied implements were evidently used on him, including fists, knives, teeth and a club. Despite these injuries he was very active but admitted he felt a little sick. He also stated that he had been robbed.

The condition of Baker was the result of a melee which took place about midnight across the Laopos Creek Bridge. When the battle was in full swing, a nurse call was sent into the sheriff's office, but when the sheriff arrived there were but two men present, Baker and Robert Werts, colored, entering a taxicab. Werts was also treated at the hospital for minor bruises but left immediately after receiving medical attention.

There was no fight in progress when the sheriff arrived, and no arrests were made. Information obtained by the sheriff was to the effect that colored men accompanied by white men made remarks to a number of girls coming from the carnival and three white men, who had also been at the carnival, objected and the battle followed. The manager of the carnival stated to the sheriff that none of the men involved were members of the carnival company and that he had tried to separate the men in the fracas.

Information received at police headquarters stated that two whites and two blacks, employees of The Governor Clinton Hotel, were involved in the fight. Baker and Werts, who stated they were employed at The Governor Clinton Hotel, arrived at police headquarters seeking medical attention. They stated they were going to the carnival when the assault took place.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Calles Rejects Mediation Offer

Mexican President Says He Has Declined to Make Mexican Constitution Respected Without Fearing Interference of Supremacy Punishments.

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Hopes of peace in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church were dashed today when President Calles rejected a mediation offer by President Leones of the League of Nations.

"The Mexican constitution is not a special law, but a fundamental code which I am bound to have decided to maintain," he said, "and I cannot accept any mediation which would require me to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church."

Calles said that he would not accept any mediation which would require him to surrender to the demands of the Catholic Church.

Mellon Silent on British Charge

American Secretary of Treasury Says No Good Can Be Served by Prolonging Controversy Which United States Considers Closed.

Rome, Aug. 5.—"No good can be served in prolonging a controversy which is considered closed so far as the United States is concerned," said Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today, when asked

Fair treatment for fair skins

Thorough clearing out of pore-debris by the right kind of lather gives the skin the best chance for its natural health-bloom. Sweetheart's lather is rich and thick in any water—it cleanses thoroughly. It is pure and mild—cleanses the finest skin safely.

At your grocer's—
Most for the money

It Lathers!
SWEETHEART
TOILET SOAP

INSURANCE

GENERAL AGENCY.

W. A. Van Valkenburgh

KINGSTON TRUST CO. BUILDING, 518 BROADWAY.

PHONES—112.

Residence 2655-1.

We write all kinds of insurance everywhere through our agency and brokerage connections.

Licensed by:
New York State Insurance Dept.
New York Insurance Dept.
New York Fire Insurance Exchange
New York Suburban Insurance Exchange.

Adds flavor to a "left-over" meal

Use it to season
SAUCES
GRAVIES
SOUPS
POT ROAST
BOILED DINNERS

THERE is one little magic way of adding taste to "left-overs." Hash, for instance, is delicious spread with Gulden's Mustard. Stews and gravies take on wonderful flavor through this economical seasoning.

GULDEN'S MUSTARD
READY TO USE

KRUEGER'S SPECIAL

So delicious with food you'll drink it with every meal! So refreshing you'll drink it between meals. So inexpensive you can drink it any time you want—and all you want. Get acquainted with this delicious malt and hops brew now!

Wood's Bottling Works
322 Broadway
Kingston, N. Y.

12 Pine St.,
Kingston, N. Y.
Morris Friedman

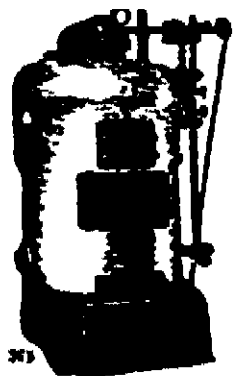

THATCHER BOILERS-FURNACES-RANGES

Confidence

YOUR ARCHITECT has every confidence in a Thatcher Product because he knows that, built into it, is the experience of 76 years of heating service—and that Thatcher has consistently led in every worthwhile improvement in heater design.

You can depend upon the Thatcher Boiler delivering ample heat on the coldest days and with a remarkably low fuel consumption.

Mail coupon below and literature will be sent regarding the Thatcher Round Boiler here illustrated.

Only Thatcher Round Boiler has proven to be the most powerful heater for thermal heat units transmitted to the water—but in the length of time between firing periods. Write today.

THE THATCHER COMPANY
300 N. 2ND ST.
CHICAGO 24, ILL.
NEW YORK
341 N. 2ND ST.
NEW YORK 10, N. Y.

Name.....
Address.....

All Cools Look Alike

to the hungry man, but what a sad disappointment when the "kitchen queen" gets cold and the table looks anything but appetizing to a useful guest. When in doubt as to what to do, use The Free Queen's "Vick's Vapo-Rub" Cough-Sneeze-Preventer.

FOREIGN TRAVEL HOLDS SURPRISES

Americans on First Trip Abroad Find Hotel and Train Customs Different.

New York.—Americans contemplating a first trip abroad are particularly interested in all the hints they can obtain on differences in mail, travel and hotel customs abroad, said a representative of the American Express company recently, when asked for some general information on baggage and other items connected with travel. Seasoned travelers know all these things, but each year produces a brand new crop of visitors to Europe who have to get this information. Not only are customs different, but common everyday things go by different names, he pointed out, and this applies not only to countries where foreign languages are spoken, but to England, where a street car is called a "tram," "bus" is spelled "kerb," and a "check" is "cheque," and that the latter has to bear a revenue stamp.

Division of service on trains into classes, since many years ago, is universal in America. In most countries there are three classes and in some four. First class is everywhere used only by the very rich—and by Americans. Second class has practically disappeared in England (on account of a few trains connecting with boats for the Continent on which services there is a demand for second class all the way through). The almost universal habit among well-informed Americans, he said, is to travel third class in England and second in most of Europe, going first perhaps in Spain and Portugal. Where fourth class is found the seats are seldom upholstered.

In most countries circular tickets (like our popular mileage books), good for a certain amount of travel anywhere over certain lines or within the country, may be obtained. In some, reduced rates obtain for trips of more than a certain length; in others, tickets good for unlimited travel for a certain number of days may be obtained at a flat price.

Ticket Examination. Throughout Europe tickets are invariably examined on entering the train platform or boarding the train, and must usually be retained and surrendered at destination.

Time tables, it was said, are not freely distributed in Europe, and it is sometimes difficult to obtain information about connections even from the station agent. On most of the Continent the 24-hour clock is used, the hours from 1 p. m. to midnight being known as 13 to 24 o'clock. Trains are not commonly referred to by their numbers, as in America, and the story of the American who with infinite pains had learned the number of the evening train is classic. "How is No. 15 running this evening?" he asked the station agent. "The 7-43 is reported on time, sir," replied the in-ferrible Britisher.

The fact that European coaches are divided into compartments is known to most Americans. Originally these compartments ran all the way across the coaches from one side to the other, and access from one compartment to the next was only by opening the door and swinging along an outside running board. Such coaches are still to be found on local runs, and are practically universal in rural districts, but on through runs on the Continent they have been superseded by corridor and vestibule cars. The compartments open at one side directly out of doors, but on the other into the corridor, which runs along one side of the coach.

Reserved Seats. On European railways there are almost no separate coaches consisting entirely of reserved seats, like the Pullman cars in America. A few lines in England run Pullman cars, and of course all compartments in sleeping cars are on reservations, but in general the above holds true. Instead, any seat, number of seats or compartments in an ordinary day coach may be reserved according to regulations, which vary in different countries.

Usually a small fee is required for reserving a seat, and in some countries, for instance in Italy, the reservation protects the seat only until a few minutes before the time of departure. After that the seat belongs to the one who gets there first. Throughout Europe it is the custom to require the marking of a seat in some manner when leaving it, for however short a time. A book, gloves or hat suffices. It is sometimes possible to obtain exclusive use of a compartment without taking quite all the seats therein.

Fee Collecting. First (and usually second) class passengers by payment of an additional amount have access to sleeping cars much like the compartments in the newer American Pullmans, where all bedding is supplied by the company. On other runs only "couettes" are available, and the traveler must supply his own covering if desired. This can usually be rented and turned over to a representative of the route at the end of the run.

To Americans the great absence of drinking water on most trains (except, of course, in the dining cars) proves an inconvenience, but the natives provide themselves with bottles of mineral water, light wines or beer before leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left. Elsewhere, when it inclines to the right, Americans who have wondered at the incessant squawking of motor horns in Paris are informed that an ordinance requires both horns within the city limits.

Taxis are surprisingly cheap in Paris, and nowhere are they much dearer than in this country. In spite of the considerably higher price of gasoline.

Compared with America, there are of course extremely few buildings which have elevators, and those which do often have queer customs. In many apartment houses the elevators will carry one up, but if one wishes to descend one must walk. In others, tenants may ride free, but visitors must pay. Servants are denied the use of the elevators in many places. In spite of cheaper labor and comparatively plenty of servants the automatic elevator is met with much more often than in this country.

European Subways. Americans who use the European subways are surprised to find first and second-class coaches and smoking cars, with different rates and different tickets for the different classes. In London the rates vary with the distance traveled, and the tickets bear the names of starting point and destination. On the Continent a flat fare is more common. There is no surveillance to see that a traveler with a second-class ticket doesn't get into a first-class coach, but occasionally inspectors come through who mildly collect the additional sum from delinquents.

On some lines season tickets are sold, good for an unlimited number of trips during the period named. As everywhere, the tickets must be shown at the entrance, where they are punched and surrendered at the exit.

In London most of the subways "tubes" they are called—are deep underground, and of elevators from the train platforms discharge the passengers into stair-lifted staircases through which they reach the street. Some of the Paris subways were built by King Richemont, and consequently the trains run to the left. Express service is practically unknown, though the London trains maintain a semblance of one by stopping every stop. The sign indicating such trains reads: "This train passes—," followed by the names of the stations stopped, and many a visitor has been delayed thereby in following the train out only to find it stopped at those points.

leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left. Elsewhere, when it inclines to the right, Americans who have wondered at the incessant squawking of motor horns in Paris are informed that an ordinance requires both horns within the city limits.

Taxis are surprisingly cheap in Paris, and nowhere are they much dearer than in this country. In spite of the considerably higher price of gasoline.

Compared with America, there are of course extremely few buildings which have elevators, and those which do often have queer customs. In many apartment houses the elevators will carry one up, but if one wishes to descend one must walk. In others, tenants may ride free, but visitors must pay. Servants are denied the use of the elevators in many places. In spite of cheaper labor and comparatively plenty of servants the automatic elevator is met with much more often than in this country.

European Subways. Americans who use the European subways are surprised to find first and second-class coaches and smoking cars, with different rates and different tickets for the different classes. In London the rates vary with the distance traveled, and the tickets bear the names of starting point and destination. On the Continent a flat fare is more common. There is no surveillance to see that a traveler with a second-class ticket doesn't get into a first-class coach, but occasionally inspectors come through who mildly collect the additional sum from delinquents.

On some lines season tickets are sold, good for an unlimited number of trips during the period named. As everywhere, the tickets must be shown at the entrance, where they are punched and surrendered at the exit.

In London most of the subways "tubes" they are called—are deep underground, and of elevators from the train platforms discharge the passengers into stair-lifted staircases through which they reach the street. Some of the Paris subways were built by King Richemont, and consequently the trains run to the left. Express service is practically unknown, though the London trains maintain a semblance of one by stopping every stop. The sign indicating such trains reads: "This train passes—," followed by the names of the stations stopped, and many a visitor has been delayed thereby in following the train out only to find it stopped at those points.

leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left. Elsewhere, when it inclines to the right, Americans who have wondered at the incessant squawking of motor horns in Paris are informed that an ordinance requires both horns within the city limits.

Taxis are surprisingly cheap in Paris, and nowhere are they much dearer than in this country. In spite of the considerably higher price of gasoline.

Compared with America, there are of course extremely few buildings which have elevators, and those which do often have queer customs. In many apartment houses the elevators will carry one up, but if one wishes to descend one must walk. In others, tenants may ride free, but visitors must pay. Servants are denied the use of the elevators in many places. In spite of cheaper labor and comparatively plenty of servants the automatic elevator is met with much more often than in this country.

European Subways. Americans who use the European subways are surprised to find first and second-class coaches and smoking cars, with different rates and different tickets for the different classes. In London the rates vary with the distance traveled, and the tickets bear the names of starting point and destination. On the Continent a flat fare is more common. There is no surveillance to see that a traveler with a second-class ticket doesn't get into a first-class coach, but occasionally inspectors come through who mildly collect the additional sum from delinquents.

On some lines season tickets are sold, good for an unlimited number of trips during the period named. As everywhere, the tickets must be shown at the entrance, where they are punched and surrendered at the exit.

In London most of the subways "tubes" they are called—are deep underground, and of elevators from the train platforms discharge the passengers into stair-lifted staircases through which they reach the street. Some of the Paris subways were built by King Richemont, and consequently the trains run to the left. Express service is practically unknown, though the London trains maintain a semblance of one by stopping every stop. The sign indicating such trains reads: "This train passes—," followed by the names of the stations stopped, and many a visitor has been delayed thereby in following the train out only to find it stopped at those points.

leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left. Elsewhere, when it inclines to the right, Americans who have wondered at the incessant squawking of motor horns in Paris are informed that an ordinance requires both horns within the city limits.

Taxis are surprisingly cheap in Paris, and nowhere are they much dearer than in this country. In spite of the considerably higher price of gasoline.

Compared with America, there are of course extremely few buildings which have elevators, and those which do often have queer customs. In many apartment houses the elevators will carry one up, but if one wishes to descend one must walk. In others, tenants may ride free, but visitors must pay. Servants are denied the use of the elevators in many places. In spite of cheaper labor and comparatively plenty of servants the automatic elevator is met with much more often than in this country.

European Subways. Americans who use the European subways are surprised to find first and second-class coaches and smoking cars, with different rates and different tickets for the different classes. In London the rates vary with the distance traveled, and the tickets bear the names of starting point and destination. On the Continent a flat fare is more common. There is no surveillance to see that a traveler with a second-class ticket doesn't get into a first-class coach, but occasionally inspectors come through who mildly collect the additional sum from delinquents.

On some lines season tickets are sold, good for an unlimited number of trips during the period named. As everywhere, the tickets must be shown at the entrance, where they are punched and surrendered at the exit.

In London most of the subways "tubes" they are called—are deep underground, and of elevators from the train platforms discharge the passengers into stair-lifted staircases through which they reach the street. Some of the Paris subways were built by King Richemont, and consequently the trains run to the left. Express service is practically unknown, though the London trains maintain a semblance of one by stopping every stop. The sign indicating such trains reads: "This train passes—," followed by the names of the stations stopped, and many a visitor has been delayed thereby in following the train out only to find it stopped at those points.

leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left. Elsewhere, when it inclines to the right, Americans who have wondered at the incessant squawking of motor horns in Paris are informed that an ordinance requires both horns within the city limits.

Taxis are surprisingly cheap in Paris, and nowhere are they much dearer than in this country. In spite of the considerably higher price of gasoline.

Compared with America, there are of course extremely few buildings which have elevators, and those which do often have queer customs. In many apartment houses the elevators will carry one up, but if one wishes to descend one must walk. In others, tenants may ride free, but visitors must pay. Servants are denied the use of the elevators in many places. In spite of cheaper labor and comparatively plenty of servants the automatic elevator is met with much more often than in this country.

European Subways. Americans who use the European subways are surprised to find first and second-class coaches and smoking cars, with different rates and different tickets for the different classes. In London the rates vary with the distance traveled, and the tickets bear the names of starting point and destination. On the Continent a flat fare is more common. There is no surveillance to see that a traveler with a second-class ticket doesn't get into a first-class coach, but occasionally inspectors come through who mildly collect the additional sum from delinquents.

On some lines season tickets are sold, good for an unlimited number of trips during the period named. As everywhere, the tickets must be shown at the entrance, where they are punched and surrendered at the exit.

In London most of the subways "tubes" they are called—are deep underground, and of elevators from the train platforms discharge the passengers into stair-lifted staircases through which they reach the street. Some of the Paris subways were built by King Richemont, and consequently the trains run to the left. Express service is practically unknown, though the London trains maintain a semblance of one by stopping every stop. The sign indicating such trains reads: "This train passes—," followed by the names of the stations stopped, and many a visitor has been delayed thereby in following the train out only to find it stopped at those points.

leaving and do not seem to suffer in the least.

Table d'Hôte on Dining. Generally only table d'hôte meals are served in dining cars. There are several sittings, tickets to which are issued by attendants, a convenience appreciated by Americans.

The amount of baggage carried free varies in different countries, as do the customs. In England most trains carry "baggage vans," or baggage cars, in which trunks and other heavy baggage may be carried, but in which there are no facilities for checking. On arrival at destination each passenger must claim his own trunk.

On most of the Continent only such baggage will be carried free as can be taken into one's compartment, and it must not exceed certain dimensions, so that it can go in the rack above one's head. All other baggage must be "registered," which means that it is carried checked in the baggage car much as in America, except that extra payment must be made.

The advice often encountered to carry only hand baggage is due to the fact that many trains do not carry baggage cars, so that if heavy articles are taken they must often be left behind to come by a later train. Contrary to the custom in America, it is usually the faster trains which do not carry baggage cars and the locals which do.

Americans are puzzled at the absence of any service parallel to the "express" in this country, whereby articles are forwarded under receipt and attended by messengers. Articles may be sent through the mails and by freight.

Sending Letters. When it is definitely known at what hotels one will be, and on what dates, it is usually more convenient to have one's letters sent there. Otherwise it is best to use the foreign offices of some travel agency or firm. Friends should be warned that only to British possessions will 2 cents carry a letter; elsewhere the minimum charge is 5 cents. The American Express company, whose Paris office during the summer rush handles as many as 40,000 letters a day, finds that 90 per cent of all letters received for patrons carry insufficient postage.

Another thing which causes confusion is that no telegrams or letters can be sent collect, so that when it is expected that cables will arrive after one's departure a small deposit should be left at the address in care of which they will arrive to cover the cost of telegraphing them on.

Hotel customs do not differ greatly from those in this country. The "American plan" of operation is found far more frequently than in the land which gave it birth. Many hotels now make a surcharge for service, and in many cities and some countries there are taxes on hotel bills. These items are not included in the prices quoted for accommodations, but are added to the total of the bill, so that if this is not taken into consideration the total is apt to be more than expected.

The hall porter, or "concierge," is an important individual and can do much to make one's stay pleasant. Contrary to the usual impression, it is only in England that the traffic goes to the left

EASY TERMS EVEN AT THESE LOW PRICES.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7.

~A Long-Awaited Event~ AUGUST FURNITURE SALE

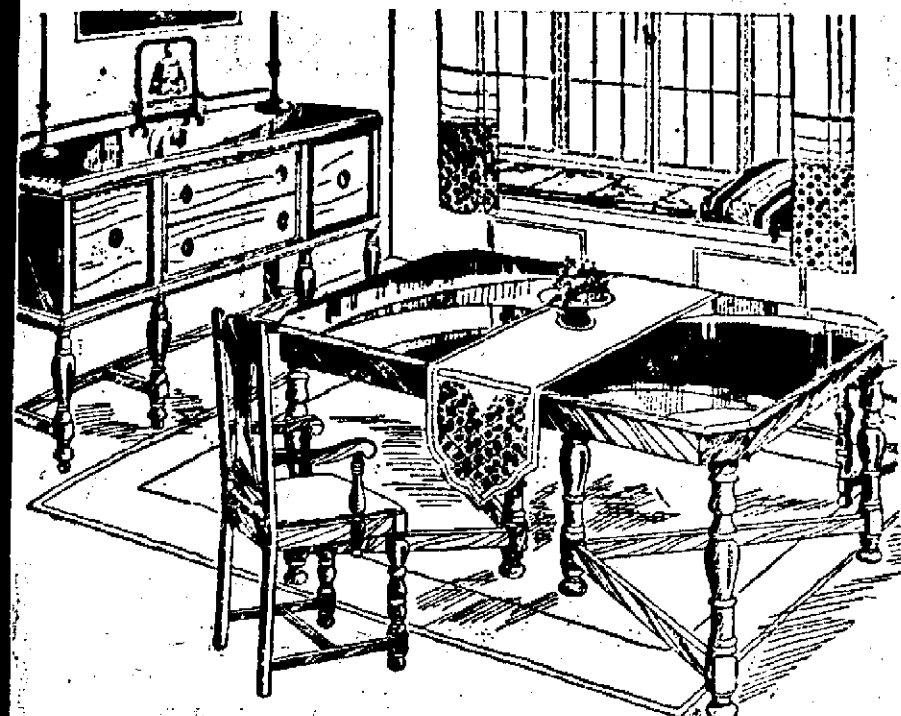

"YOUR HOME SHOULD COME FIRST."

Your home is entitled to modern furniture, comfortable Living Room Suites, attractive Dining Room furniture, New Beds. Let us help you make yours a better home now.

OUR IMMENSE SECOND FLOOR

Is simply teeming with Bargains in Furniture, Rugs, Floor Covering and Draperies.

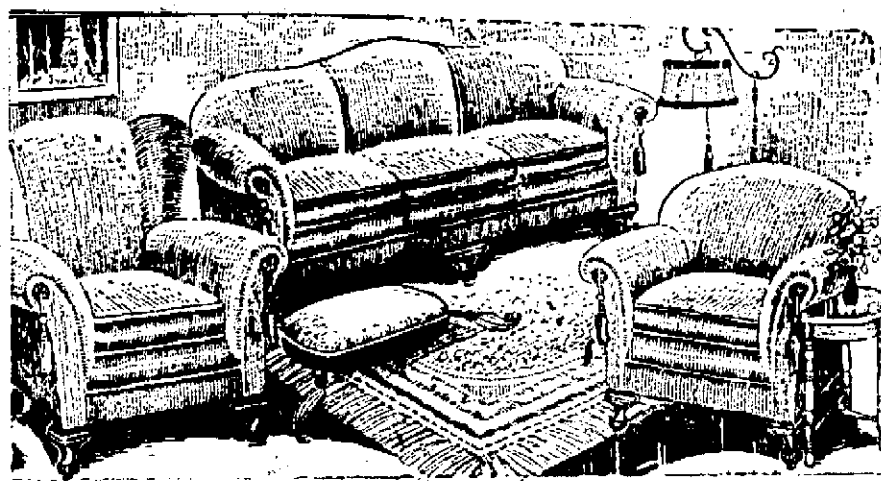

REDUCED! 8 STURDY PIECES IN WALNUT FINISH

Another "high-spot" value in our August Sale! 8 handsome pieces—sturdily built and finished in a rich shade of walnut. Includes oblong extension table, large buffet, host chair and five side chairs with genuine leather seats. The china—can be purchased at a slight additional cost. $125.00

OAK AND MAHOGANY FINISHED COSTUMERS. Regular $2.00. $1.69

MATTING COVERED SHIRT WAIST BOXES or Rope Chests. $4.25 to $12.00

BEAUTIFUL LIVING ROOM SUITES

They are selling fast because they're good. Covered all over with cut velour or jacquard, reversible cushions. Special $135.00 for this Sale.

MOHAIR SUITES $198.00 to $350.00

THIS BEAUTIFUL BED ROOM SUITE

IN SELECTED FRENCH WALNUT VENEER! 4 PIECES.

Here is a suite that is worthy of a place in your home. Comprises 4 very handsome pieces in selected French walnut veneers with a striking two-tone effect. Flow-end bed, dresser, high boy and full size vanity dresser complete this very luxurious suite. Note the surprisingly low price! $149.00

EASY CREDIT TERMS.

SPECIAL OAK BED ROOM SUITE.....$79.00
OTHER BED ROOM SUITES.....$225.00 to $493.00

ODD PIECES FOR ALL ROOMS.

ODD BED ROOM BENCHES	$6.50 up
ODD BED ROOM ROCKERS	$5.00 up
TELEPHONE SETS	$4.98 up
GATE LEG TABLES, mahogany finish	$19.98 up
TEA WAGONS, mahogany and walnut finish	$19.98 up
END TABLES, walnut and mahogany finish	$2.98 up
SPINET DESKS, mahogany and gum	$21.98 up
DAVENPORT TABLES, walnut and mahogany finish	$12.98 up
7 ODD WOOD BEDS, ivory finish and white enamel. Regular $22.50.
Sale price	$11.98

PORCH ROCKERS

$5.00 AND $5.50 KIND

$3.98

CEDAR CHESTS

SIZE 15 x 31

$9.98

DEEPLY TUFTED ALL COTTON COMFORTABLE MATTRESS, $9.98.

A new mattress means better sleeping comfort. Get rid of your old one for a deeply tufted, comfortable mattress with durable ticking at a price that makes it well worth your while to buy now. Come in tomorrow.

OTHERS UP TO $35.00

IRON BEDS, $7.98

White and Walnut Painted, 2 in. continuous post.

3-PIECE BED OUTFIT

Consisting of 2 inch continuous post. Bed in ivory, walnut or white. "Bonic" link spring. All cotton mattresses.

Value $27.50

Sale, $22.50

BABY HIGH

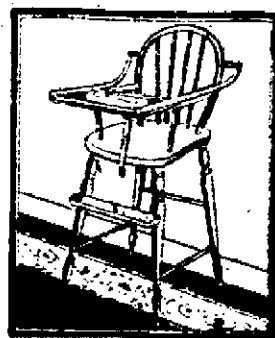

CHAIRS

LIKE CUT

$6.50 to $9.00

OTHER BABY CHAIRS

$5.50 to $2.50

KITCHEN TABLE

With porcelain top in white or gray

$10.00 value

$8.75

Other Kitchen Tables

$6.50 to $4.00

SOME DAY YOU'LL BUY A HOOSIER

And Wonder Why You Waited So Long.

It Saves Miles of Steps.

Kitchen work without a Hoosier is apt to be drudgery. Every convenience for labor saving.

$39.75 - $57.50 - $67.50

$5.00 PUTS ONE IN YOUR HOME.

Ask to See the Free Cutlery Set.

HANDSOME FIRRE CARRIAGE

Rolling comfort for the baby at a surprisingly small cost. A roomy three carriage with wire wheels, lined and padded at the greatly reduced price. Before your attention before they are all sold. $29.00 up to $43.00.

Alaska Refrigerators

25 PER CENT—DISCOUNT FOR THIS SALE—25 PER CENT

Regular Prices $22.50 to $65.00

Sale Prices $18.00 to $52.00

Large High Back Porch Rocker, slat back, rattan seat. Regular $5.50. SPECIAL $4.29

Porch Swings with chairs, all hard wood, stained. VERY SPECIAL $3.49

FOUR PASSENGER LAWN SWING, all hard wood, adjustable seat. Very Special $8.98

PORCH SCREENS, 10 ft. to 14 ft. $2.98 to $5.98
COUCH HAMMOCKS $2.98 to $37.50

ODD DRESSER

Sturdy and well built dresser. Has swinging mirror and easy sliding drawers. A treasure at this very low price. $10.25

GATE LEG TABLE

Attractive table with drop leaf of mahogany veneer. A splendid addition to the home at a fraction of its real worth. $12.98

BABY BASINETTE

In ivory and white, good size rubber tired wheels, safety sides.

$4.69

Regular price $5.00. Sale

KIDDE COOPS, the gamins, special

$28.98

DAVENPORT TABLES

Mahogany, brown mahogany and walnut finish.

$21.98 to $35.00

A new breakfast set at a tremendous reduction in price. Includes a roomy breakfast table and 4 comfortable chairs—attractively designed and nicely stained. One of the big values in our August Sale. $34.50

PORCH SWING WITH CHAIRS

$3.49

Sturdy swing for the porch. Nicely stained and comfortable. Complete with strong chairs at this special price. Buy yours tomorrow and save!

Coxwell Chair $39.00

Mahogany and the best wood in comfort. Covered with combination velvet and leatherette with spring steel construction. A chair of beauty and comfort. At a good price.

The Daily Cross Word Puzzle

By RICHARD H. TROLEY

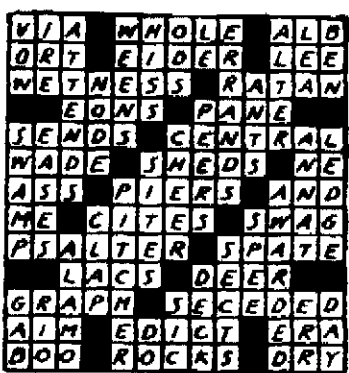

- Horizontal
- 1—An essential question
 - 2—Artifice
 - 3—Five hundred and one
 - 4—A drop
 - 5—To inspire with ardent love
 - 6—Else
 - 7—Apparatus for heating liquid
 - 8—Small U. S. coin
 - 9—Small island
 - 10—Serpent-headed
 - 11—Lean
 - 12—Tropical edible root
 - 13—Upward
 - 14—Cravat
 - 15—Sooner than
 - 16—Cosy corner
 - 17—A continent (abbr.)
 - 18—Place where bread is made
 - 19—Makes into a law
 - 20—Half an em
 - 21—Slight
 - 22—Measure of length
 - 23—To mature
 - 24—Shield
 - 25—Small particle
 - 26—Bed
 - 27—Pain
 - 28—Dutiful
 - 29—Principal Egyptian goddess
 - 30—Gambling game
 - 31—The French (masc.)
 - 32—Straddle
 - 33—Lived
 - 34—Thrilling (abbr.)
 - 35—Heavenly body
 - 36—To parch

- Vertical
- 1—Court of justice
 - 2—A direction (abbr.)
 - 3—One of an Indian tribe
 - 4—Carved posts in front of an Indian tent
 - 5—Implement of war
 - 6—Within
 - 7—Boy
 - 8—Discharge
 - 9—One of two fighting combatants
 - 10—Prefix; "not"
 - 11—Sheep-like animal

- 11—Leave out
- 12—Fresh
- 13—Travel overland
- 14—Blackthorn
- 15—Social gatherings
- 16—Metals
- 17—Fugle
- 18—Saltwort
- 19—Pulsate
- 20—Agony
- 21—Period of very long duration (India)
- 22—Lump of clay
- 23—To wrangle
- 24—Formerly
- 25—The female
- 26—Material for veils
- 27—To countenance
- 28—Evergreen trees
- 29—Terminates
- 30—To rest
- 31—To be in debt
- 32—Like
- 33—Baby's first syllable
- 34—Comparative suffix

Solution will appear tomorrow.

Solution of preceding puzzle.

Copyright, 1926, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Alabama's Praises Sung by Black

Son of Ulster Who Has Been Prominent in Adopted State Many Years Tells Kingston Rotarians About Conditions There.

The Kingston Rotary Club had for its speaker this week Walter Black, past president of the Troy, Alabama, Rotary Club, a native of Ulster county and a graduate of Kingston Academy in the class of 1887. Mr. Black went south shortly after graduating from Eastman Business College in Poughkeepsie and has been a resident of Troy for the past 36 years. His address to the Rotarians covered a number of subjects, commended the Rotary spirit of extending a welcome to the visitor, extolled music and Rotary singing as an inspiration to great deeds, outlined the growth of the South and enumerated some of the advantages of Alabama with all the zeal and ardor with which a Kansas man speaks of Kansas.

Alabama, Mr. Black quoted Roger Babson as saying, has the greatest resources of any state in the Union, and Mr. Black added his own loving and eloquent portrayal of peaches, apples and water melons, not forgetting the more humble potato, of which two crops are grown in a year. Ships built in Mobile carry steel from Birmingham to all parts of the world.

Cotton is King. But with all this cotton remains King. Cotton brings cash and everybody is anxious to buy cotton. The South produces 15,000,000 bales of cotton each year and at an average price of $100 a bale this means $1,500,000,000 a year cash return for one crop alone. In two or three generations the center of the wealth of the country will be in the South. The people are hospitable and friendly and the spirit of Rotary prevails—the Rotary that is not defined and bounded but that lives in the hearts of men. While the sky may not be bluer or the sun shine brighter in the South, Mr. Black said, people are not lacking there who would let the moon shine in all of the time.

Mr. Black is an extremely eloquent speaker, using the choicest language and garnishing his speech with many quotations and references. He was listened to most attentively and very earnestly applauded.

Visitors from Hoboken and Garden City were present at the meeting and Song Leader Scudder was extremely happy in his choice of appropriate selections, including "In The Good Old Summer Time" and "Jingle Bells" and closing with "Dixie."

Ladies' Night Next Monday. Complete arrangements for the Ladies' Night at the Catskill Mountain House next Monday evening were announced. The dinner will be at 6:30 and there will be dancing.

afterward. The speaker will be District Governor Otto L. F. Mohr of Port Richmond, Staten Island. Tickets may be obtained from R. Kenneth Everett and there is no limit on the number of guests, provided reservation is made on or before Friday of this week.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Aug. 5.—The Rev. and Mrs. Jesse F. Duffer of Philadelphia, Pa., called on friends in the village last week.

Mrs. Arthur Hoag and children of Wheeling, W. Va., are spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Mary Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Smith of New York are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Chappel.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Teneyck and sons, Wessels and Roger, and Miss Radcliffe of New York motored to Egremont, Mass., Sunday and were guests of Fred Meek.

Mrs. J. S. Mason is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Maxon at their camp at Lake Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranssen Wilcox of Yonkers, N. Y., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Brink.

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Foertner and son, John, of Tarrytown are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stewart was the scene of a very pleasant occasion Saturday, celebrating the birthdays of various members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. J. Byrne and daughter and J. O. Stewart and daughter of Brooklyn joined in the celebration.

Miss Hilda Foertner of Tarrytown is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harder.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren are spending the month of August at Winoscook.

GRAHAMSVILLE.

Grahamsville, Aug. 5.—Some farmers have finished haying, while others have just nicely begun.

The much needed rain came at last and everything is looking fresher than a week ago.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Frank Cross of Eureka is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hoornebeck of Ellenville visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hoornebeck Sunday last.

Cherries are very plentiful this year. Mahlon Donivan has sold 200 quarts.

Cherrytown Chapel Service.

Oliver Bridge, Aug. 5.—The opening service in the Cherrytown Reformed Chapel was much better than was expected. A goodly number of young people assembled and enjoyed the service. More active support is desired from the older people to make this a permanent and worth while feature, in the community. Everyone is invited to come next Monday night at 7:45 standard time and help in making this a real gospel service.

Stamp Sells for $500

An error in the Argentine stamp of the 1899 issue resulted in one of the specimens being sold at auction in London the other day for $500.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, Aug. 5.—Crosby Wilkin has been spending a two weeks' vacation with his parents.

Communion services will be observed in the New Hurley Church next Sunday morning, August 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and son called on relatives in Plattekill on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Blakely, nurse, who has been in attendance with Mrs. Phoebe Shuett at the Wilkin home, has been very ill.

Mrs. Harriet Lawson and daughter, Mrs. William Kaufman of Hollis, L. I., is spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. I. Sutton.

Miss Hugh Ward of East Orange and Miss Josephine Speker of New York have returned home after spending a week with Mrs. Carrie Birdsall and son.

The members of the Circle will go to the Orange County Fair at Middletown on August 19, for their annual picnic.

The Missionary Society will meet at the home of Miss Jennie Traphagen on Thursday afternoon, August 12, at 2 o'clock. Bible word "Keep."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Acock and daughter, Miss Marr and Miss Acock of Pearl River, N. Y., called on friends here Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Arthur Van Arendonk of Schuylerville, N. Y., has accepted the call to become pastor of the New Hurley church and will move to this place some time in September.

PLUTARCH.

Plutarch, Aug. 5.—There will not be any preaching service until the first Sunday in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McCormick and two children attended church service at Rifton Sunday morning.

The Rev. G. E. Kern of Kingston, a former pastor, was the preacher. Mr. and Mrs. Abram Jansen of New Paltz were business callers in town on Monday.

The man who bought Judson Van Vleet's place is putting a new siding on the house and making other improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stimatz and family entertained some city guests last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McCormick of Pine Plains spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormick.

Wiram and Lela returned with them having spent a couple of weeks with their grandparents.

Uno Lillberg of Poughkeepsie spent the week end with friends in town.

Mrs. Charles Adams and two children of New York are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mackey.

Elias Van Nostrand and family of Tilton spent Monday evening with Fred Van Nostrand and family.

Miss Joanna Boland is entertaining some city friends this week.

Smart Shellfish

A Fifth avenue jeweler in New York exhibits this sign in his window: "Pearls and Other Precious Stones." Oysters, it seems, are getting entirely too smart.—The Outlook

No kitchen work or worry

SHREDDED WHEAT

Ready-cooked and ready-to-eat—Cooling, refreshing, satisfying

THESE ARE DOG DAYS

But you will find us on the job, day or night, to attend to your insurance needs, be they what they may. Auto Accident, Tourist Baggage, Fire Insurance.

McENTEE INSURANCE AGENCY

DWIGHT McENTEE, Manager.
Telephone 524-J. Kingston, N. Y.

CHEVROLET

SEE OUR EXHIBITION OF THE SMOOTHEST
CHEVROLET IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

At the Brown and Dyer Exhibition

Being held This Week at the

MUTTON HOLLOW SHOW GROUNDS

Under the auspices of Excelsior Volunteer Hose Company.

SUTLIFF, Inc.

In the opinion of counsel, upon the completion of the building, these bonds will be a legal investment for Trust Funds in New York State.

$260,000 Kingston Theatre and Office Building

KINGSTON THEATRE CORPORATION

FIRST CLOSED MORTGAGE 7% GOLD BONDS

TRUSTEE: Kingston Trust Company

MATURITIES

July 1, 1928	- - - -	$5,000
July 1, 1929	- - - -	8,000
July 1, 1930	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1931	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1932	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1933	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1934	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1935	- - - -	13,000
July 1, 1936	- - - -	156,000

Available in denominations of $1,000, $500, $100.

PRICE: 100 and accrued interest to yield 7%

Descriptive circular sent on request

These bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us subject to the approval of counsel.

BERRY & COMPANY

(Incorporated)

276 FAIR ST.

KINGSTON, N. Y.

Memphis National Bank Bldg.

Memphis, N. Y.

Phone 1400.

16 Cannon Street

New York, N. Y.

Phone 2411.

Phone 1345, Room 11.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

Mary Graham
Donner

THE GILA MONSTER

"There is no getting away from it," said the Gila Monster, and one of the other reptiles in the zoo said: "Getting away from what?"

"Wait until I continue my story," said the Gila Monster.

"In the first place, as you doubtless know, or again maybe you don't, my name isn't pronounced as it is spelled.

"It is pronounced as though it were spelled with an H instead of a G. Just like this—Heela.

"Of course I am a lizard. I don't quite know why I should say 'of course I am'.

"If I were something else I would not be a lizard.

"Still, because I am a lizard I say that of course I am one.

"My name might not let people think so at first, but my name will let people think so when they want to think so—and surely they will want to think so when they find out that it is so.

"I am a very beautiful pink-and-black lizard. And I am very big for a lizard. Oh, yes, I am a huge creature—that is, for a lizard.

"And so I am called Monster.

"That is one of the reasons why I am called Monster.

"I am longer than many lizards and I have poisonous fangs on my lower jaw.

"Without a doubt that is another of the reasons why I am called Monster.

"In fact I am the only poisonous lizard living in this country, I believe.

"But there is no getting away from the fact (that was what I wanted to say) that I am better tempered here in the zoo than I was when I was free.

"I am wild and angry and dangerous when I am free. I am quick and I can turn quickly upon the enemy.

"But here in the zoo I take so nicely and so pleasantly to being away from my life of freedom that I can almost be made a pet of, yes, truly.

Not Such a Bad Fellow.

"Now isn't that strange?"

"To think that I am so much nicer here than when I am free?"

"It is so. I like the zoo. I like to have some one else look after me.

"I'm not so fond of being my own boss as one might think with such a name and with such power and with such habits when I am free.

"But oh I did a great deal of harm when I was free.

"I was quick and cruel and I did just what I chose.

"You see, though, there is some good in the zoo for I like to be shut up in the zoo where I can do no harm.

"I prefer it even to being free where I can do harm.

"Now you see when I really prefer to be in the zoo I can do harm there is good in it.

"I don't want to get the will power to do what I am free, and besides I don't want to be free.

"I don't want to be free and I know that no one else can do it for me."

"The Gila Monster smiled and said: "You were really not such a bad fellow after all."

The Gila Monster smiled and said: "It's a funny world," he said, "and we're funny creatures after all."

"Just think how many different kinds of creatures there are in the world, with all their different looks and shapes and ways and habits."

The other reptiles squirmed and giggled and said:

"And one of the funniest creatures in this funny world is Gila Monster himself."

To which Gila Monster agreed.

Why Tom Minded Grandpa

Tom was told to mind his grandpa when he was at her house just the same as he would mind his mother. One day his grandma told him to do something he did not want to do, but he happened to remember what his mother had told him, so he said rather grandly: "Well, grandma, you say my real home, but I'll do what you say 'cause you're my relation."

What Worried Ray

A friendly neighbor called on Sunday one day. Ray happened to be standing beside his new motor's car, sitting on the curb.

"What would you do without this motor?" asked the lady.

"I'm not so much worried about what I'd do without her as what I'd do with her," gleefully replied Ray.

DR. J. M. BOWEN
Physician
20 WALL ST.
(Between W. 11th Street)
Consultation and treatment
Free of charge by appointment
P. O. Box, Kingston, N. Y.

GAS BUGGIES or HEN AND ANY—Farewell, America!

THE FEELING OF RELIEF EXPERIENCED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS, WHEN HEN ANNOUNCED THE FIRST DIVIDEND BY PETRIFIED GAS, WAS MILD IN COMPARISON WITH THAT OF TWO FAMILIAR-LOOKING FIGURES WHO WATCHED THE SHORE-LINE OF THE UNITED STATES REcede IN THE DISTANCE.

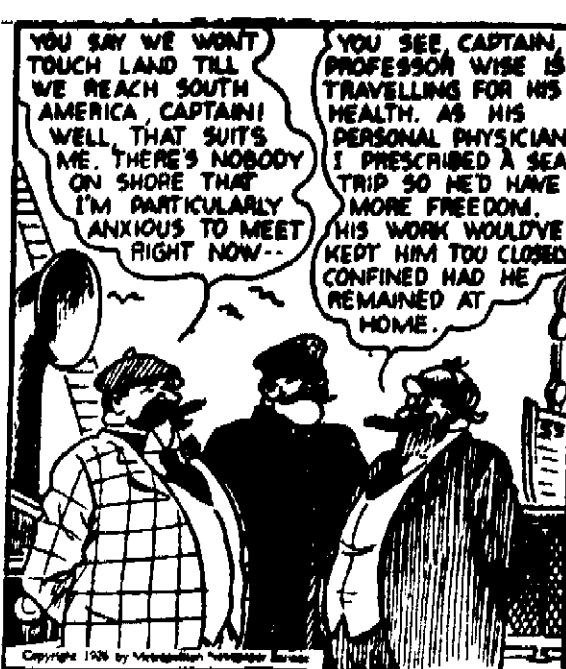

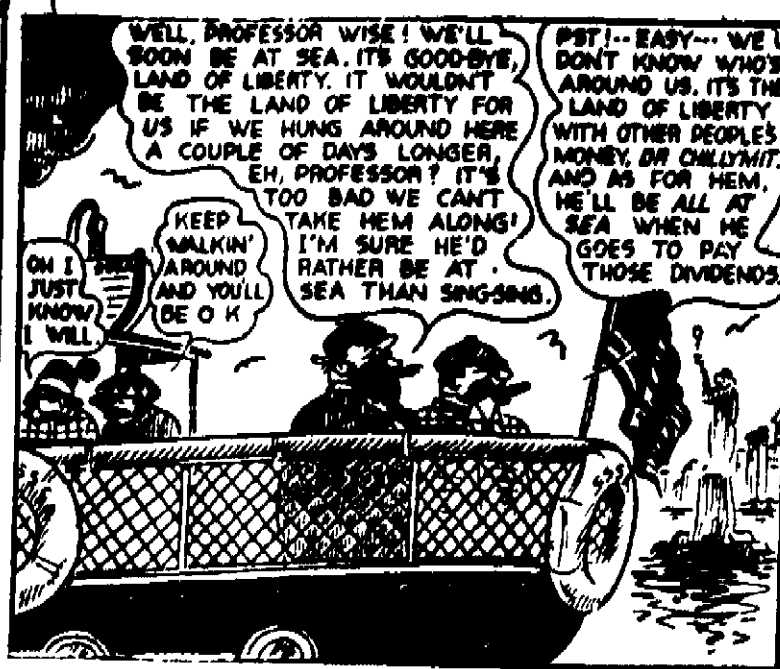

TABLE UTENSILS OF PAPER FIND FAVOR

Satisfactory and Save Household Drudgery.

We use paper napkins on many informal occasions without offering the apologies for them which not long ago were considered necessary when ever they were spread out in the presence of guests. Home-makers are slow to acknowledge that a new form may be good form and particularly so, perhaps, when the change seems to imply a laziness on their part or a lack of readiness to take a great deal of trouble for friends, a writer in the Christian Science Monitor sagely remarks: Are not all visitors, however, made uncomfortable by the knowledge that they are increasing the drudgery of those who are entertaining them, and is not conversation more spontaneous and mirth more free in the servantless house when there is very little implication of special labor in the form of entertainment?

The writer was present not long ago at a studio luncheon served on paper plates. They were square sectional plates and were fitted into metal supporting trays so that the weight of meat, vegetables and relishes caused no sagging when they were brought in and removed. The paper is nonabsorbent, grates, sauces and juices belayed with absolute decorum, nor did the edge of the knife cut into this porcelain-finished paper any more than it would do into actual china.

After the meal the hostess threw away the plates. The supporting trays did not need even wiping, for the paper is impervious. No aftermath of unpleasant occupations dulled for her the pleasures of hospitality.

When there are no guests, in the ordinary routine of daily life, these plates are emancipators. The housekeeper is free almost at once after a meal for whatever the succeeding hours offer. In a very busy household where the acquisition of a little extra time really matters, that time being a contribution to important affairs, it seems almost a duty, if it of funds no one in the home, to sacrifice day in and day out the luxury of pretty china and to give the time saved to service.

Veterans at the Top

Age for counsel youth for action, is often quoted as the right combination. Manifestly our largest industrial companies thoroughly believe in age for counsel. It is rare for any director to be selected under fifty. The Telephone company president is, as all ready told, only forty-one. General Electric's president, Gerard Swope, is fifty-three, but James A. Farrell, the Steel president, is sixty-three. The average age of these three is about nine years less than the average age of the directors. Even so, it is unusual rather than usual for a young man to be elected head of any huge organization, the popular notion to the contrary notwithstanding. Young Gifford really is a shining exception. Plan and pioneer and plot and all the rest of it but have patience. This is often called the day of young men; but it is not the day of young men at the very top.—D. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.

Fingerprint Setback

Trust in fingerprints as an effective means of identification has had a bad setback. A case has arisen in connection with two prisoners in New York whose fingerprints could not be classified under the Bertillon system—because they were bricklayers. The identifying ridges had been worn off during the exercise of their occupation. If this group of those who could not be identified embraced only bricklayers, the situation might not be without hope. But anyone could get himself a brick; even newspaper might serve the purpose. Those who hoped that fingerprinting the whole world would bring about something like a millennium in which no man, woman or child could escape the responsibility of being who and what he happened to be will have to give a thought to the experience of the New York authorities with these bricklayers.

Roads Marked to Guide

Airplanes in Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky.—A. J. A. Baker of the Kentucky National Guard will have strategic rifle building roads marked for quick local recognition from the air.

The state air board has supervised in Kentucky over construction and maintenance of air ports, routes and station strips. This enables them and counties to maintain ports and roads in conjunction with each other and the adjacent ground, planning an air route for the guard, over the air as a great step "upward."

Co-Operation

Artist (to burglar)—Say, old chap, if you can sell any of those pictures of mine I wish you would send me the address of the man who buys 'em.—London Humorist

America Leads in Cereals

American farmers raise 12 tons of cereals for each man engaged in farm work. Farmers of the rest of the world raise only 14 tons for each man.

Pearls' Breeding Place

By far the greater number of round pearls are found in the thick, fleshy portion of the oyster's mantle near the inhalant or exhalant orifice, and generally near the mantle edge.

Innocent Protector

A woman's natural protector is less an aged father or tall brother than a very young child.—Mme. de Girardin.

Milk Requires Care

As an aid to longevity, many modern health authorities advocate the consumption of a quart of milk a day by both children and adults. Milk, they point out, contains every structural element. But, like most good things, it has a handicap. Milk is one of the most delicate of foods and with the best of refrigeration facilities it will remain sweet only a short time. Sterility also is a big question in milk production.

Belgian Sugar Guard

Belgium, which protects her sugar industry by law, forbids the importation, the manufacture and the transportation of saccharin and like products. No dentifrices that contain saccharin may be imported. Attempts have been made to induce the government to change the interpretation of the law so that tooth pastes, creams and lotions may be regarded as medicinal articles. Dentifrices are now classed under the head of perfumery.

Quarter Days Vary

Quarter days are, in England, the days which begin the four quarters of the year: March 25, or Lady day; June 24, or Midsummer day; September 29, or Michaelmas day; and December 25, or Christmas day. In the United States, in law, quarter days are the first of January, April, July and October. In the relation between landlord and tenant in some states they are the first of May, August, November and February.

Character and Reputation

NO matter when or where you motor in Soconyland you will always be sure of finding Socony pumps. Every road and highway of importance displays them at frequent intervals.

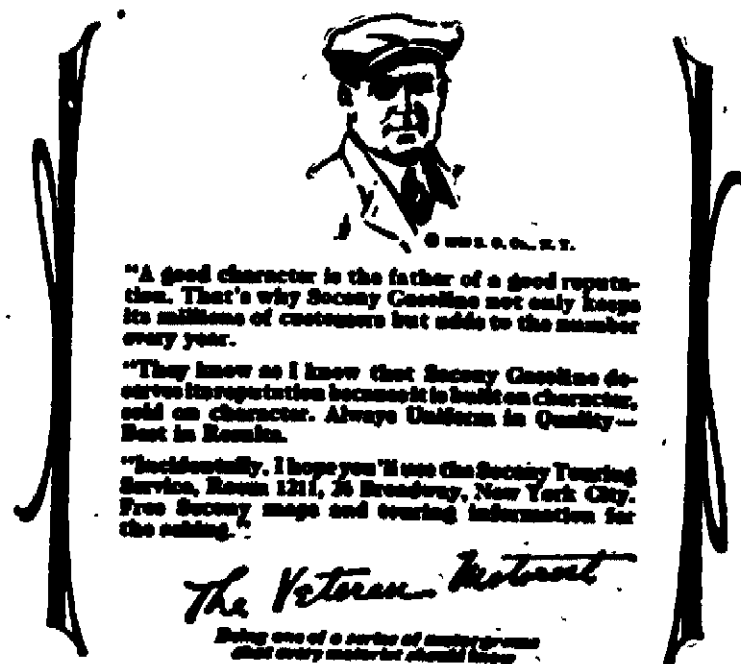

This is a feature of Socony service that is unsurpassed by anybody.

But more than this—even more than the universal courtesy with which Socony Gasoline is dispensed—is the unsurpassed merit of the product itself.

No matter what the task, Socony Gasoline never fails you.

Day in and day out it just eats up the miles and makes the hills lie down.

Socony Gasoline is the preference of millions of satisfied motorists because anywhere, at any time, it gives the utmost in motoring satisfaction.

"A good character is the father of a good reputation. That's why Socony Gasoline not only keeps its millions of customers but adds to the number every year."

"They know so I know that Socony Gasoline deserves its reputation because it is based on character, solid on character. Always Uniform in Quality—Best in America."

"Incidentally, I hope you'll use the Socony Touring Service, Room 1214, 26 Broadway, New York City. Free Socony maps and touring information for the asking."

The Veteran's Motoring

Being one of a series of motoring maps that every motorist should have

SOCONY GASOLINE

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

[STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK]
26 Broadway

POWERS • MILLIONS • OF • MOTORS

The coolness of mountain air is in it!

You will find in "Canada Dry" a stimulation and a dryness like that of mountain air! A pleasant exhilaration, persuasive and alluring.

There is no better drink for a hot summer's day than this champagne of ginger ales. It is cooling and invigorating and genuinely good for the stomach. For it is a real ginger ale, made from real Jamaica ginger.

That is the reason for its wonderful flavor! That is the reason it is universally acknowledged to be the finest ginger ale ever sold in this country! That is the reason it is served in leading hospitals and prescribed by physicians!

Serve "Canada Dry" some night soon at dinner—alone or with iced tea. The combination is delicious.

SPECIAL HOSTESS PACKAGE

A new way of packing "Canada Dry." Ideal for home use. Twelve bottles in a substantial carton. You will be especially glad to have it handy when friends drop in unexpectedly, for dinner, for the bedtime snack. This Special Hostess Package is sold by all "Canada Dry" dealers.

"CANADA DRY"

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Imported from Canada and bottled in the U. S. A. by Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Incorporated, 125 W. 43rd St., New York, N. Y. J. J. McLaughlin Limited, Established 1892.

Sold by Wm. H. Harrison & Company, Inc. © 1924

FRENCH'S PREPARED Mustard

Watch your boy's delight when he bites into a sandwich spread with French's Prepared Mustard. Pure and clean; different in flavor; unlike ordinary mustard. Just try French's once.

In dry form, the French's Prepared Mustard is the most convenient and healthful.

There's plenty of "pep" for a hungry boy, in French's

Party Dress of Yarn, Embroidered in Net

Here is a winsome party dress made of yarn, embroidered in net. The yarn is spun of the fur of white Angora rabbits and is very soft, fluffy and furry. The colors are lovely pastel shades. The slip is of pink satin.

Bouffant Frocks Are in Fashion Picture

There is no question as to the vogue of bouffant frocks. Early in the season when they made their initial appearance, there was a certain amount of skepticism as to their success but the swiftness with which these charming and youthful fashions were taken up left little doubt as to their importance.

Surprisingly enough, it is the black taffeta models that are the outstanding successes of early summer models. They have rivals in frocks made of white tulle combined with white tulle or black lace and in the dresses whose colors reflect the distinct popularity of all shades of red, but unquestionably the dinner or dance frock of black taffeta is the smartest frock of the moment.

Best they seem a bit too somber for youthful wearers many designers introduce a bit of brilliant color. Frequently this appears in the facing of the skirt and a scarf collar outlining the rounded or deep V décolletage, but quite as often the note of contrast is struck by a huge straggly flower posed at the waistline or on the skirt.

Many a black taffeta, with a bouffant skirt, exploits the new flounced effect and uneven hemline. At the waist is a huge flower of a pale lemon color.

Designed for one of society's best known brides, who elected to have her attendants dressed in frocks of different pastel shades, this bouffant model achieved a huge success. Two of the bridesmaids wore gowns in the rose and blue colorings, two appeared in orchid and peach, while the last two wore dresses of daffodil yellow combined with delicate green.

Accessories That Will Appeal to All Women

For the traveler nothing could be more welcome than one of the new oblong bags of calf in any one of the new colors. The most expensive are moire lined, fitted with swinging purse and passport compartment. A two-tone pouch bag with long flat and tailored lines is of tan and brown leather. It is mounted on a leather frame, has a leather strap and is fitted with passport compartment, purse and mirror and is lined with tan moire. This bag may be carried with any of the colors because of its well blended color combination.

Cameo sets, consisting of necklace, bracelet, brooch and earrings, are copied from the period styles. The necklace, which usually has a large cameo in front, is made up of fancy motifs of antique gold, set with small colored stones and pearls. Smaller cameos are used in the bracelets and earrings. The brooches have fancy settings or frames studded with colored stones and pearls. Jade sets are also new, with enameled colored flowers in place of the stones and pearls. Flat collarettes of Italian filigree motifs in fancy shapes and squares are worn with the low-necked dresses.

Cloisonne enameled silver vanity boxes in small round shapes have black enameled covers that form a lovely contrast with the rest of the box and emphasize the design of gold flowers in bright colors.

Earrings of ivory are now fashionable and have been modernized so that they may be worn with the new costumes. When made in imitation of the center of the gold work in the pendant is little in evidence. The solid ivory earrings are beautifully ornamented with gold and have elaborate work at the hanging.

Know His Limitations

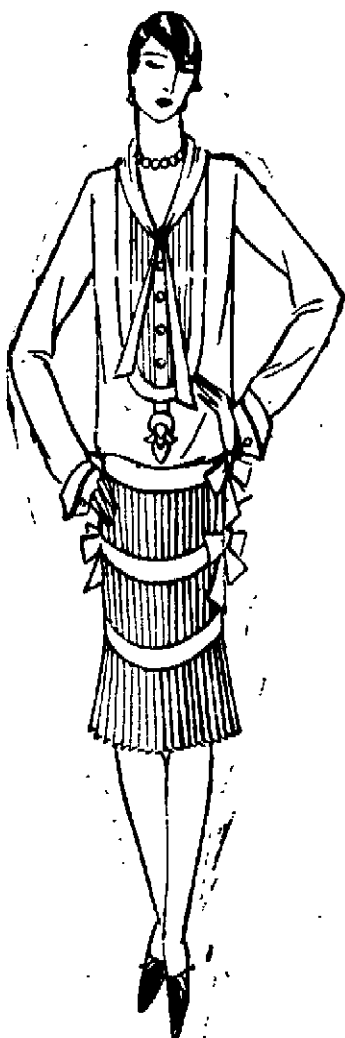

"In order to be successful," said the man who gives advice, "you must be there in person." "So do," answered the insurance agent. "I am open to responsible criticism, but I am not blindly credulous."—Washington Post.

Eleanor Gunn On Fashions

Color by Day and Color
by Night is the Style
Slogan — Evening Wraps are Scintillating Affairs,
Regal in Mien.

A red gown seems startling enough, but a red ensemble! Of course there are many depths and degrees of red, and, curiously enough, fashion approves them all at the moment, though showing a strong preference for winey shades for street wear.

The richness of claret kasha, of Burgundy broadcloth, or of soft, heavy crepe, makes an instantaneous appeal even with weather conditions rather against the success of such colorings. One glimpse of brilliant red hats here and there, and thrills to the news that Paris now approves topping a beige or other neutral gown with such a hat. What a pleasant change from the monotony of the perfectly matched ensemble! Apparently it is a day and age for color schemes, among the newer being navy or black with flesh, or even a deeper pink.

A Fine Woolen Fabric in a Bordeaux Red, Called "Chamberlain," is Used for a Frock with an Interesting Treatment in Pleats and Bows. A Topcoat of the Same Color Accompanies the Dress.

Evening wraps continue, in spite of the season, to be sumptuous rather than simple, to flash gold beneath the silver moon and to reflect the rich colorings of stained glass, instead of the soft pastels of other summers.

The fur collar is omitted from the average evening wrap. One feels that this may be true also of wraps worn much later, for when there is a collar on these regal wraps, it is a very negligible affair. This applies to coats for formal occasions. Travel coats usually omit fur and those for afternoon seem to be sufficient unto themselves. Antelope and flat furs are used in preference to long-haired ones, when fur there must be.

(Copyright, 1924, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

THE WHY, WHEN, AND WHERE OF FASHIONS.

The Bad Talk of a Beaded Bag.

The charming beaded bags of today are by no means new, nor indeed are they so costly, as comparative values go. Even back in 1890, tinted beads were difficult to get, to say nothing of the twisted silk upon which the ladies wore the designs. A handsome pattern for a beaded bag was such a treasure that the secret of its manufacture was given only to nearest and dearest friends. Many a tale of domestic envy and jealousy centered around these bags.

In New England, a certain Matilda was the reputed queen of beaded bags. She was a rival of one Ann Green for the attention of a minister, a widower with three children and a sister. One of Matilda's bag patterns which showed a written tree, funeral urn and grass-green grave, and was quite the envy of the neighborhood, was procured by her to the minister's sister.

But when the sister tried to knit the bag, it proved a sad failure. Ann Green had found the written rules and merely changed them into meaningless bodges. Also and such, the sister of the minister, believing Matilda had purposely given her a jumbled recipe to prevent her pretense as a bag-maker, reproached her brother that he could not turn down Matilda and married not the wicked Ann, for which he must be grateful, but a widow from another town.

Then, under the tale of the funeral bag, but these old designs are wonderfully beautiful, and the modern bag of today is, in the majority of cases, only a careful reproduction of the art of our great-grandmothers.

(Copyright, 1924, Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

Sham! Swat! Wham! An' words that end with—!!

ENJOY days and nights free from flies and mosquitoes. Drive them from your porch. Destroy them indoors. Spray FLIT.

FLIT spray clears your home in a few minutes of disease-bearing flies and mosquitoes. It is clean, safe and easy to use.

Kills All Household Insects: FLIT spray also destroys bed bugs, cockroaches and ants. It searches out the cracks and crevices where they hide and breed, and destroys larvae and their eggs. Spray.

Fit on your garments. FLIT kills moths and their larvae which eat holes. Extensive tests showed that FLIT spray did not stain the most delicate fabrics.

A Scientific Insecticide: FLIT is the result of exhaustive research by expert entomologists and chemists. It is harmless to mankind. FLIT has replaced the old methods because it kills off the insects—and does it quickly.

Get a FLIT can and sprayer today. For sale everywhere.

STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

FLIT

DESTROYS
Flies Mosquitoes Moths
Ants Bed Bugs Roaches

The yellow can with the black band

CANFIELD SUPPLY CO.

Wholesale Distributor

for FLIT

STRAND and FERRY ST.

KINGSTON, N. Y.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

5975

A Simple Frock for the Little Miss.

5475. Rayon silk, jersey, crepe or crepe de chine could be used to make this popular model. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length, or short, as in the large view.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. An 8 year old requires 2 yards of 36 inch material if made with short sleeves. If made with long sleeves the dress requires 2 1/2 yards. To trim with bias binding as illustrated will require 5 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any person on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1924 Book of Fashions, showing color notes, and containing 400 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

MT. TREMPER.

St. Trempers, Aug. 4.—The ladies of the Reformed Church will hold their annual fair on the afternoons and evenings of August 11 and 12th. There will be many fancy articles for sale. A supper will be served on August 11 from 8 o'clock until all are served and on the evening of the 12th at eight o'clock there will be an entertainment with a small admission charge. In place of the usual fish pond there will be a flower garden which will be an added attraction. A carnival is extended to all to attend and a pleasant time is promised. Mrs. H. M. and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., are occupying part of Mrs. Norman Wilmer's house for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schell of Washington, D. C., are spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner. They motored up from their home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Traver of Rhinebeck, N. Y., over the arrival of a baby daughter, Gloria Jean.

Mrs. Norman Wilmer and children, Ruth and Helen, called on Mrs. Lulu Gitch at Lake Hill Monday.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

So we went strolling,
Down by the rolling sea;
You may keep your croak for other folk,
But you can't frighten me! —Kipling.

SWEETS FOR THE CHILDREN

The candy which is prepared in one's own kitchen is far superior to the confections bought in any candy store. Here are a few good ones worth cherishing and using occasionally when the appetite clamors for sweets:

Creamy Fudge.—Take one cupful each of brown and white sugar, one-half cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of corn syrup and four tablespoonfuls of cocoa. Boil the soft ball stage and set away in the dish to cool. When cool stir until creamy, adding flavoring and nuts if desired. Knead until smooth and then put into a buttered mold and cut into squares. If maple flavor is desired omit the cocoa and add maple flavoring.

Cream Candy.—Take a cupful of cream, two cupfuls of sugar, boil to a soft ball stage, flavor to taste, then beat until thick; drop from a spoon on buttered sheets.

Collage Wafers.—Take one pound of brown sugar and one cupful of water, boil to a soft ball, then pour over the well-beaten white of an egg. Continue beating until the mixture is creamy, then add flavoring of vanilla and chopped nuts. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered sheet before it gets too hard.

French Fondant.—Take one pound of sugar, one-half cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of corn syrup or two-thirds of a tablespoonful of cream of tartar. Boil until a soft ball is formed in cold water. Set away to cool in the same dish or pour out on a large buttered platter. When cool stir until creamy, then knead into a ball and stand for several days to ripen. Melt over hot water, add coloring and flavoring and drop by spoonfuls to make pastilles. Mold into balls and decorate with nuts or fruits for bonbons.

Chopped pineapple added to fondant, flavored with a little vanilla or almond, made into balls and dipped into chocolate makes delicious candy. Melt the chocolate over hot water.

Nellie Maxwell

The single "hair" is applied to the front, back, and sides of the face, and used by primitive man for ornament and protection. Jade has been found among the ruins of the late Incas in Peru, and in the ruins of the Incas in Peru, and in the ruins of the Incas in Peru.

How I keep the kitchen cool on washday

NO hot, steaming washdays for me this summer! No more rubbing and scrubbing and boiling in the old-fashioned way.

Now I can keep the kitchen nice and cool. I just soak the whole week's wash in creamy Rinso suds—and boiling isn't necessary!

This Rinso soaking loosens the dirt. Then I rinse in clear water—and off come dirt, grime, stains, suds—leaving the clothes whiter and brighter than ever. Sterilized, too!

Rinso makes the water so soft and sudsy. Saves my hands, too. They don't get red and raw any more. Ask your grocer for

Rinso

The guaranteed soap that soaks clothes whiter—no scrubbing.

FRECKLES

Get Rid of These Ugly Spots
Safely and Surely and Have a Beautiful Complexion With OTHINE

DOUGLAS STRENGTH
MONEY BACK IF IT FAILS. SOLD BY DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES EVERYWHERE.

Having your eyes examined here means that the right glasses are given—the best time.

Figures in the World's News

MAURICE MOUVET

Rear Admiral COONTZ

MRS. ROBERT WALLER

LORD BEAVERBROOK

Maurice Mouvet, famous dancer, quit to become a farmer in Switzerland. Rear Admiral Coontz recommended the concentration of munitions in a depot on each coast, as a result of the Lake Denmark disaster. Mrs. Robert Waller was said to have told New Jersey officials she could corroborate the testimony of Jane Gibson, the "pig woman" in the Hall-Mills murder. Lord Beaverbrook, noted British publisher, arrived for a tour of America.

RIDE BY DE LUXE OBSERVATION PARLOR COACHES TO NEW YORK CITY.

Leaves Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	9:30 A. M.
Leaves Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	9:40 A. M.
Arriving New York City.....	1:25 P. M.
Leaves Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	1:25 P. M.
Leaves Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	1:30 P. M.
Arriving New York City.....	1:30 P. M.
Leaving Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	5:00 P. M.
Leaving Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	5:00 P. M.
Arriving New York City.....	5:40 P. M.
Leaving New York City.....	9:30 A. M.
Arriving Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	9:30 A. M.
Arriving Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	1:37 P. M.
Leaving New York City.....	1:50 P. M.
Arriving Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	2:30 P. M.
Arriving Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	6:15 P. M.
Leaving New York City.....	6:50 P. M.
Arriving Blue Crane Inn, New Paltz.....	6:00 P. M.
Arriving Eagle Hotel, Kingston.....	9:40 P. M.
Return trip ticket, $5; One Way, $3. Good for 30 days.
Reservations and tickets can be secured at all terminals.
New York Terminal, Atlantic Hotel, 7th St. and Broadway. Phone Trufalgur, 7710.
Kingston Terminal, Eagle Hotel, Phone 2145.
New Paltz Terminal, Blue Crane Inn, Phone 150.

KINGSTON-NEW YORK INTERSTATE COACH CO.

Ulster Park Road Work Progressing

Work on the construction of the town road from Ulster Park to Union Center, town of Esopus, is progressing. Grading of the road is nearly completed as far as the school house at Union Center and the work of laying the base will be taken up again in a few days. The work of laying macadam was halted some time ago when a shipment of oil binder failed to arrive. The oil has been received and unloaded and the laying of macadam will be resumed. When the supply of oil ran out, work of laying the base was suspended in order not to inconvenience traffic and the grading and widening of turns was taken up pending the arrival of the oil. There has been little inconvenience to traffic during the construction work and the rock base is placed but a short distance ahead of the completed roadway, giving but a minimum of construction to pass over. It is expected that the present appropriation will carry the road approximately to the school house at Union Center.

Editor Jailed

Vincente Villasana, editor of El Mundo, of Tampico, and president of the Associated Press of Mexico, was jailed in connection with the church-State struggle.

Franklin Would Have

Put Maxims on Coins

The first third of the Nineteenth century was the heyday of Staffordshire ware decorated with pictures. And not the least interesting of this china was the series picturing maxims, proverbs and morals.

Of this didactic china many pieces carried reproductions of "Poor Richard's" sayings, which our great American, Benjamin Franklin, industriously circulated through his Poor Richard's Almanack for 25 years.

The Poor Richard maxims were very near to Franklin's heart, and he let no chance slip to get them into greater circulation. One of his projects—which, however, was not carried out—was to imprint on one side of the copper coins of the new American republic some proverbs of Solomon and other sayings encouraging thrift.

"Diligence is the mother of good luck," and "Plow deep while sluggards sleep" were among those he suggested. His practical and benevolent mind pictured how many a family would read and ponder his precepts as they gathered round the hearth.—The Antiquarian.

"Pony Express" Hailed

as Fast Mail Service

The first trip of the "pony express" from St. Joseph to Sacramento, carried about 85 pieces of mail, according to Glenn D. Bradley's "The Story of the Pony Express." This run began in the early evening of April 8, 1860, and required 9 days and 23 hours. At the same time an east-bound express was also on the way with about 70 pieces.

"The first pony express from St. Joseph," writes Bradley, "brought a message of congratulation from President Buchanan to Governor Downey of California, which was first telegraphed to the Missouri river town. It also brought one or two official government communications, some New York, Chicago and St. Louis newspapers, a few bank drafts, and some business letters addressed to banks and commercial houses in San Francisco."

Sold by Auction

Morganatic marriages of royalty are freely discussed, but perhaps the most curious stories are about the auctioning of wives which took place so recently as 50 years ago. According to the Annual Register the inhabitants of Carlsbad witnessed the sale of a wife by her husband, Joseph Thompson, in 1872. A bellman was sent round to give notice of the sale, which attracted the attention of thousands. The woman stood on a large oak chair with a rope or halter of straw round her neck, and Thompson addressed the crowd.

After an hour or two she was purchased by a purchaser for the sum of 20 shillings and a Newfoundland dog!—London Times.

Gospel Prophet

Isaiah is known as the great Gospel Prophet, since he is spoken of as often in the Gospels and because many of his prophecies are recorded as fulfilled in three books of the Bible.

Chum Killed

Margaret Craig, an actress, was killed while struggling with Betty Queen, above, for possession of a shotgun at Browns Mills, N. J. (International Newsphoto.)

Talking Tour

Senator William Borah started on a nation-wide speaking tour, opposing the world court and prohibition.

Witness

Carl Caze, fourteen, will be an important witness at the trial of Rev. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, Texas, who killed D. E. Chippa. The boy was the only spectator at the shooting. (International Newsphoto.)

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Deeds Rec'd Recorded With the County Clerk.

The following deeds have been filed in the Ulster county clerk's office:

Mary Beach and others to Michael J. Cavanagh and wife, a parcel of land on Sackett street, Port Jervis, town of Ulster. Consideration $1.

Charles R. Supple to Frederick H. Supple, a property on the southern side of Hurley street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

A. J. Hornbeck and wife to Van Wagoner, a tract of land in town of Denning. Consideration $1.

Charles A. Peterson and Nellie E. Peterson to Wilbur A. Brock, a parcel of land on Foxhall street, New York city. Consideration $1.

William A. Brock to Nellie E. Cohen of New York the same five lots. Consideration $1.

James A. Taylor to Jennie T. Black and Lulu Gallagher of Brookhaven, a parcel of land in town of Denning. Consideration $1.

Calvin Cady, Sr., and wife to The Bristol Bulk Company, buildings and tracts of land on north side Madison turnpike, town of Saugerties. Consideration $1.

Caroline S. Bennett to John A. Hays of Southampton and May Rogers of Washington, D. C., parcels of land and building in Saugerties, town of Saugerties. Consideration $1000.

Charles B. O'Rilly to James N. Murphy and wife, a parcel of land on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

THE PHOENIX PLAYERS

PRESENT

"THE LOVERS"

A Comedy by CARLO GOLDONI at the PHOENIX THEATRE, WOODSTOCK, N. Y.

TICKETS $1.50 EACH

Performances Tues., Thurs. and Sat. evening at 8:45 p. m.

Matinee Friday at 2:45 p. m.

Fastest Cable in the World Laid from Penzance, England, to Newfoundland

No Mishap Mars Dangerous Work of Paying Out 2,500 Mile Line

The initial step in the laying of the fastest long distance telegraph cable in the world was completed last week when the heavy shore end of the 2,500-mile line linking England with Newfoundland was carried through those dangerous waters known as the "graveyard of the Atlantic" and hauled in to the rocky coast at Bay Roberts by 150 husky fishermen during

Top—Newfoundland shore's end of the cable coming out of the tank on the cable ship Cyrus Field, which handled landing operations at Bay Roberts.

Left—Hauling the shore end off the Cyrus Field and attaching it to the barrels on which it was hoisted ashore.

Right—Shore end of original Atlantic cable laid by the Great Eastern just 60 years ago. S. H. Tranfield, cable superintendent at Heart's Content, Newfoundland, for the past 36 years, is holding the cable.

Below—The Cyrus Field, which took the shore end from the big cable ship Colombia.

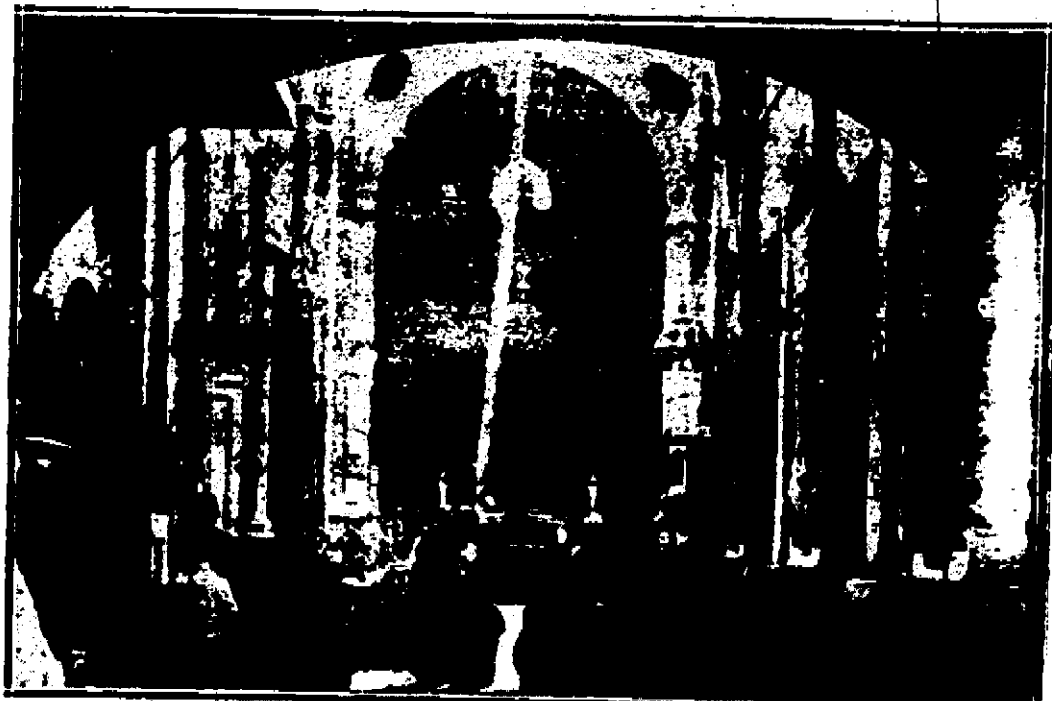

moment of drowsiness, for the cable makes a complete circuit of the tank every three or four seconds and the man working at the flake must skip the curling coil each time it whips around.

Many a time, for a moment sleepy or forgetful, a man is felled by the fast-circling coil and then thumped cruelly again and again before he can be pulled out of danger, with only his arms and legs broken—if he is lucky. Many a time some careless cable hand has been caught in the whirling python and fatally injured. Sometimes it happens that several coils of the cable are caught together and the whole mass is drawn to the top, ripping and smashing everything in its way. Woe to the man who gets snared into that unstoppable mass!

One stout-hearted cable man, some years ago, saw just such an accident occur, but saved a break. He saw the coils rising in a tangled mass and realized that it meant the certain breaking of the cable as well as the ruin of all the machinery. He leaped heroically at the big and rode upwards on his terrible chariot, but by desperate efforts he succeeded in unspooling the line. Then he fell back to the floor of the tank with a sickening thump, seriously crippled, but with the cable saved.

A break is serious business, for the ship must grapple for the loose end with a five-pronged fishhook weighing 230 pounds and a massive chain strong enough to lift up many tons of cable from the greatest depths.

Devout Mexicans Say Last Prayers in Church

This shows Catholics praying in a church in Mexico City for the last time before the edifice was closed by the government in the conflict between church and State. (International Newsphoto.)

on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

Edward Kehler of Southampton to Fred W. Yack and Gilberta Yack, a parcel of land on western side of Green street, Port Jervis, town of Ulster. Consideration $1.

John J. O'Rilly to James N. Murphy and wife, a parcel of land on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

John J. O'Rilly to James N. Murphy and wife, a parcel of land on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

John J. O'Rilly to James N. Murphy and wife, a parcel of land on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

John J. O'Rilly to James N. Murphy and wife, a parcel of land on south side of Andover street, Kingston. Consideration $1.

MOHICAN

MOHICAN BREAD
BETTER THAN EVER
A FULL POUND LOAF
16 OUNCES AFTER BAKING

7c

RAISIN BREAD
A WONDERFUL LOAF.
EATS LIKE CAKE
SPECIAL PRICE
FRIDAY

Pound 10c Pound
Loaf Loaf

SNOW FLAKE
BISCUITS

Sales are constantly.
By Light Biscuits

FRIDAY
Dozen 11c Dozen

FISH - FISH

The quality of fish was never better than right now. We are receiving them direct from the fishermen's nets. We will have Soft Shell Crabs, Live Lobsters, Sea Scallops, Eastern Halibut, Porgies, Sea Bass, Fillets of Haddock, Fresh Mackerel, Shore Haddock, Codfish, Black Back Flounders, Salmon, Whitefish, Trout.

TWO VERY POPULAR FISH AT UNUSUAL PRICES.

LIVE SHORE HADDOCK, to bake, to boil.

Special price Friday, 9c

FRESH MACKEREL, elegant fat fish, at this low price.

Friday, 10c

This may be the last opportunity to buy fish at this price.

Mohican Evaporated Milk, large can

10c

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

295 WALL STREET, NEAR JOHN STREET, KINGSTON.

Use FREEMAN advertising regularly and conservatively and results will surely follow.

E. Frank Flanagan

K. E. Archer

Oscar A. Watkins

Friday and Saturday SPECIALS

BROKEN LOTS—ONE AND TWO OF A PATTERN.

MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S SUITS

Regular $25.00, $28.00 and $30.00 Values.

Friday and Saturday Special
$22.50

Regular $35.00, $38.00, $40.00 and $42.00 Values

Friday and Saturday Special
$29.50

Regular $45.00, $50.00 and $55.00 Values

Friday and Saturday Special
$37.50

Regular $60.00, $65.00, $70.00, $75.00 and $80.00 Values

Friday and Saturday Special
$49.50

S. COHEN'S SONS

331 WALL STREET,

KINGSTON, N. Y.

Ulster and Erie Punish Thieves

First Committee to Report Convictions Obtained Through Farm Bureau Vigilance Service—Petty Thieves by Motorists Checked.

Ithaca, Aug. 5.—That farmers are in earnest about protecting their property from petty thieves, and that their Vigilance Service can be of them is indicated by two convictions for petty theft in widely separated territory reported here today at the headquarters office of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation.

Both cases are fairly typical of the annoyance and loss suffered by farmers at the hands of irresponsible motorists, whose understanding of property rights seems to leave them when they pass the city limits," declared E. V. Underwood, general secretary of the Farm Bureau Federation.

One case was reported from Ulster county and the other from Erie county. In each case, the Farm Bureau Vigilance Service is paying a reward to the person who gave information leading to the conviction.

Mr. Underwood stated today that 15,000 Vigilance Service signs have been sent out from his office to the county farm bureaus for posting on the farms. He expressed confidence that the million dollar loss which farmers suffered last year from thoughtless or unprincipled motorists and petty thieves will not be duplicated this year as the police and local constabulary receives practical cooperation through the Vigilance Service.

The Vigilance Service was fostered by the State Farm Bureau Federation. Rewards are paid by the service for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons guilty of petty or grand larceny on property with Vigilance Service signs.

Short, Sweet

Morris Roderick Volck, New York broker, and Florida Lallane, Follies girl, were married after a month's acquaintance.

(International News)

Steel Houses in England

In England modest houses all of steel are meeting the needs of workmen of small means. And now, in recent months, steel, barns and steel bungalows have been making their appearance in increasing numbers in the United States, according to Popular Science Monthly. In Tarrytown, N. Y., for example, there has just been completed a novel dwelling in which the entire framework is formed of "metal lumber" riveted in the shop, transported to the site and there bolted together. The builders say that any person who knows how to use a monkey wrench, plumb line and carpenter's square can easily erect the frame for the house by following the plans.

Give Name to Street

The word "street" is the Greek for "broadway." It is given to a district of London, England, and is the name of the Strand, because the principal buildings in the district were owned by four brothers, J. and Robert Jones, and William and John, whom the streets are named after.

Freedom's Ideals

Only free people can find the purpose and their lives should be a constant and progressive effort of mankind to any other purpose of their own.—Thomas W. Higginson

DANCE!

UNDER AUSPICES OF EDDYVILLE VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

Kennedy's Hall, Eddyville.
SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 7th.
Music by Roubert Orchestra.
DANCING 8 TO 1.

ADMISSION

50c

SAGERTIES.

Sagerties, Aug. 5.—An appeal being made about this village by friends of Evangelist T. LeRoy M. for dollar contributions for funds to replace the large tent that was recently destroyed by a tornado in Union, N. Y.

The Philatheas held a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hallenbeck on Jay street.

A Rinaldo, the local butcher on South Parition street, has purchased a Dodge delivery truck from Clinton Van Buskirk, the local agent.

A Delta Gamma meeting was held at the home of Miss Dorothy Vancore on Livingston street Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. James Dedrick and son of Main street have come to the summer camp at Eagle Bay in the Adirondacks for the remainder of the month.

Miss Anna Whinters of Hudson is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Whitaker of Mt. Marion.

John Lowther, daughter and son of New York city are visiting his mother in this village.

Miss Bertha Carnright of Main street is spending a few days in Monroe, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Styles and son of Main street are spending their vacation in Vermont and Massachusetts.

Philip Lasher, who has been ill the past few days, was taken to the Benedictine Hospital on Monday to receive treatment from his physician, Dr. John G. O'Leary.

William Carnright, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Finger on Main street, has returned to his home at Newark, N. J.

Miss Lute P. Nicholas of Washington avenue has returned to her home from Porto Rico.

Charles Wilbur of Parition street is visiting friends in Fairfield and Asenonia Conn.

Mrs. Charles Eichorn of Brooklyn is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ella Thompson of Mac Donald street.

Walter Kreiger has purchased a new Dodge delivery truck for his fruit and grocery business on Livingston street.

John H. Macklen, colored, of Glasco was placed under arrest by Officer John Lavelle on Tuesday morning for acting disorderly in that place. Police Justice Gardner gave him a reprimand and then discharged him.

Lamouree-Hackett Post, No. 72 American Legion, and Auxiliary are making preparations to go to Mid-City park this Sunday. Notices must be sent in as to how many members are going.

Victor Simella of New York city was arrested by Officer John Lavelle on Tuesday morning and when brought before Police Justice Gardner was unable to produce either owner's or operator's license for the car he was driving. A fine of $10 was imposed which was paid.

Prudence Gains More

We accomplish more by prudence than by force.—Tacitus.

Compensation Insurance

Confidence among your employees is what you are endeavoring to create.

AETNA-IZE

ASK US ABOUT IT

Under an Aetna policy, compensation claims are handled in a way that will create and hold confidence among your employees and will relieve you of all the expense and worry.

PARDEE'S INSURANCE AGENCY
TELEPHONE CALLS
NO. 6 BROADWAY-UPSTAIRS

USED FORD BARGAINS

LATE MODELS.

Sedans, Coupes, Runabouts & Touring

FIRST CLASS CONDITION.

$50 up

Port Ewen Auto Sales, Inc.

Port Ewen, N. Y.

Tel. 2735.

Ungrateful

You have a few brains with which to think. You have eyes to see. You have hands with which to work. You have feet with which to transport yourself. You ought to glory in that capacity to move about and do and see and experience. And yet you complain and cry and whimper just because you aren't a millionaire. Great Scott, man, but you are ungrateful and unreasonable.—Atchison Globe.

Treasure in Table Plate

If you read up a way of getting wealth has been the converting of gold and silver into plate, and more particularly into ornamental drinking vessels. We have a few specimens from ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome, but for the most part these treasures are one thing or another were melted down into raw cash for the use of the government.—Atchison Globe.

Shake cool, refreshing TODDY in your own home

FAMILY or guests will smack smiling lips over TODDY'S alluring flavor!

Children love TODDY—and it is good for them.

TODDY is both food and drink.

It provides all the nourishment your body needs in Summer.

TODDY makes milk nearly twice as nourishing and easier to digest.

A glass of TODDY has nearly as much food value in calories as four eggs. It contains every food essential—carbohydrates, proteins, mineral salts and vitamins in the right proportion for making firm muscle, nerve and rich red blood.

A Meal in a Glass

Drink TODDY and eat light foods during the warm weather.

Get a can at your grocer's or druggist's

MALTOP, INC., BUFFALO, N. Y.

TODDY
A Meal in a Glass

Cooling and Refreshing—

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

TODDY contains pure condensed milk extract and should not be confused with other preparations containing artificial flavors and colors.

A Mayonnaise women are talking about...

VANHOE
Mayonnaise

Here's a real contribution to busy housewives—a delicious and gracious compromise between mounting thermometers and decreasing energies. Ivanhoe Mayonnaise—always fresh—piquant—dependable! Women who never before dared to trust their pet salads to the uncertain mercy of "made dressings" now delight in the extra freedom that Ivanhoe gives them.

Ivanhoe is a zestful salad dressing—crowded with the delicious healthfulness of purest oil, freshest eggs and tangy eastern spices. It has twice as many eggs and it is beaten 50 percent faster than ordinary salad dressings. That's why it is so creamy, smooth, and delicious and that's why too so many women are talking about it and buying it!

Serve an Ivanhoe salad for luncheon or dinner or both. Use it for between-meal "bites"—in sandwiches for the picnic.

You can get it at all the "Better Grocers."

One Cent A Word Advs. Bring Results

Every day more Kingston folks and suburbanites are discovering that the quality of merchandise offered at

Hymes' Rebuilding Sale

is on a higher plane than the price indicates.

The former reputation for being Kingston's Outstanding Bargain Store is being replaced by the public recognition of

MORRIS HYMES'

Better Merchandise.
Better Assortments.
Better Values.

Your Forefathers' Store.

Lois Wilson

Popular Lois Wilson, the "movie" star, appearing in what promises to be one of the outstanding comedy hits of the season. She has the leading feminine role in "The Show-Off," taken from the stage play by George Kelly.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

SEWING AS A CHARM

THEY say in New England that if a girl sews a button upon the clothing of a marriageable man she will marry him before the year is out. Kindred superstitions are common in various parts of the country. In some sections it is believed that if a woman while sewing on a dress accidentally sews it to the garment she has on, many lies will be told about her as she takes stitches, and in many others the superstition is that if a garment is mended while it is being worn lies will be told about the wearer.

These superstitions are remnants of the ancient belief in initiative magic. The first one—about the sewing of the button—is exactly in accord with the belief and practice of our remote ancestors. As the girl fastens the button to the man's clothes so she fastens together his life and hers. The other two have become slightly distorted in their descent through the centuries but are plainly forms of the superstition mentioned by Ovid in his "Fasti" nearly two thousand years ago. He represents a witch as attempting to stop people lying about her by sewing up the mouth of a fish. Originally it was believed that by sewing up a rent in a garment while wearing it we "sewed up" or stopped the mouths of those who lied about us.

The rhyme common in a few localities:

If you mend his clothes upon his back
It's a sign his troubles will never come back.

(By McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—

MEN don't tell as many lies as women. Maybe because they can't get away with 'em as easy.

One good lie deserves another. And usually gets it.

There's forty different ways of losing a lover, but the surest is by marryin' him.

A man may be as old as he feels, but a woman is as old as her best friends just told her she looks.

Unmarried women don't act as dissatisfied as they used to. They don't dare. It'd be too much of an admission.

FOR THE GANDER—

Everybody can find some' for a wild' errand boy to do.

A woman would rather be helped over a bad place than warned about it.

A man'll always blame some' for his own mistakes—some' outside himself for his failure.

You can't learn horseback riding on a se-saw.

Gettin' over anger fast, ain't as good as gettin' into it slow.

Within the last 15 years 400 electric power plants have been established in China.

Really Water Bugs

Electric light bugs are water bugs the common type of which is the firefly. They come out of the water in early summer and fly in swarms at night, gathering about lights, and in some places to tormenting the street lamps that they have become known as electric light bugs.

WHY Hibernation Might Be Good for Mankind

The suggestion that hibernation might be emulated with practical success by human beings was advanced by Vernon Bailey of the United States biological survey at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mammalogists at the American Museum of Natural History.

Describing the results of his study of the long winter sleep among some of our mammals, Mr. Bailey said he was encouraged to believe in a similar form of hibernation as a physical aid to mankind. He suggested that the assembled scientists from all parts of the country devote further study to it.

"I see no reason why hibernation should not be made use of in the medical profession or in other practical ways of mankind," said Mr. Bailey. "It might be applied with special benefit in disorders of the nervous system."

Hibernation, the speaker said, was something between sleep and death which progressed until the sleeper's body became cold and respiration reached a scarcely perceptible rate. This condition in some mammals might continue for six months, while others awoke occasionally to feed from food stored nearby.

Mr. Bailey said he had been much impressed by the experience of Nanu, the explorer, who, while isolated many years ago in the Arctic, virtually slept through the entire winter months arousing himself momentarily from day to day only to eat frozen blubber before dropping off again.

Why Cooling of Loaf Causes It to Stale

Why does bread grow stale? When the loaf is put into the oven the starch in it is turned into jelly by the heat. This jelly holds the moisture in the loaf and distributes it evenly throughout the bread.

As the loaf cools the starch gives up its moisture which is drawn from the center of the bread into the outside crust. Thus the inside, or crumb, becomes hard and dry, while the crust changes from a hard and crisp substance into a soft and "loafy" one.

Cold weather makes bread stale rapidly, and for the same reason stales can be freshened by being placed in an oven for a few minutes.

Scientists have been investigating the staleness of bread, and are now trying to find out why some loaves keep much better than others. At the same time it is pointed out that stale bread is wholesome and that there is really no need for the waste that goes on at the present time.

Why Prince Learned French

Polonius's book of reminiscences tells how the present prince of Wales came to learn the French language. King George remarked to the marquis de Breteuil: "I suffer from not being able to speak French correctly. When I was a child it was not foreseen that I should reign. I desire my son should not suffer in the same way. Will you consent to receive him for four or five months?" At eighteen the prince, as Lord Chester, went into the Breteuil family, resident in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, and when he left Paris, spoke the French language "without effort."

Why Shoulders Ache

Typists and musicians often get pains in their shoulders, which they diagnose as neuritis.

Dr. John B. Carnett, professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania, says the pain is caused by a deposit of lime salts that accumulates between the shoulder and arm bone on account of constant friction.

Once this deposit is located, declares Doctor Carnett, the curative treatment is found to be extremely simple.

Why Paper Sticks

The bureau of standards says that the sticking together of paper during the printing process is caused by static which is introduced by the friction of the paper with the metallic parts of the printing press. This gives considerable trouble in printing plants, and in large establishments special equipment is used to prevent this. Controlled humidity conditions assist in this respect, as paper that is kept very moist gives very little trouble.

Why Tires Wear Out

It is internal friction rather than the compression of the car's weight, says the United States bureau of standards that wears out most automobile tires. When the car is driven over a bump the squeaking of the tires causes the layers of the materials of which the shoes are made to rub over one another. This rubbing action makes the tires hot and is largely accountable for the shortness of their serviceability.

Why Cream Rises

Cream is composed of an infinitesimal number of minute drops of oil and fat which are lighter than water. For that reason they rise to the top. It takes some time for cream to rise to the top because the droplets are so small that they come up very slowly.

Correct this sentence: "I will contribute a thousand to your cause," said he, "but I want no publicity."

Nicaragua Behind Times

Nicaragua is a Spanish-speaking republic, the population of which is about 450,000. The people are principally of mixed Spanish and Indian race. Agriculture, lumbering and mining are the principal sources of the national wealth. There is very little manufacturing. The climate is largely tropical, and the principal agricultural products are bananas, coffee and sugar cane, besides some grains for home consumption. The forests contain mahogany, cedar and dye woods, which are largely exported to the United States. Nicaragua is to a considerable extent mountainous, and there are some gold mines, worked by American or British companies.

Science "O. K.'s" Pie

Pie is not so bad for the digestion. Authority no less profound than the editors of the Journal of the American Medical Association sponsor this idea, quoting "food specialists" to back up the contention.

Cake is coming into its own likewise, and bears the stamp of dietary approval as a real food. To refute the notion that it is "too rich" it is pointed out that it has only 25 per cent more calories than bread, while a slice of the latter spread with butter is almost twice as rich in fat as the corresponding amount of chocolate cake.

His First Love Affair

If a boy who has been notoriously careless of his personal appearance suddenly begins to show some interest in the condition of his face, neck, ears and wrists; agonizes over the part in his hair; takes his fingernails out of mourning; discovers overnight that a toothbrush is of practical value instead of uselessly ornamental, and demands a clean shirt every day; if, we say, and when, this amazing metamorphosis occurs, remember the basis on which the old French detective used to go to work—"find the woman." There isn't another thing under the sun that will produce such a revolution.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Tower Famous Landmark

As a landmark, nothing can equal a tower in a hilltop. For instance, the noted tower on the top of Leth hill, the culminating point of the North Downs, England, can be seen 40 miles away.

The story goes that it marks the spot where an eccentric farmer of the neighborhood was buried on horseback, and upside down, so that when the world was turned topsy-turvy at the last day he would be in the right position. This story is probably founded on the fact that Mr. Hall of Leth place built the tower in 1708 and was buried there six years later.

Lady Astor Returns Here

Lady Astor, M. P., was photographed on her return to her native shores at Boston, with Michael, ten, and John Jacob, seven, her sons. She defended the modern girl as moral, praised prohibition, and said disarmament was impossible.

International Newsweek.

Autos Hurt Railways

Passenger revenues of New Zealand railways are said to be much affected by the competition of privately owned motor services operating on parallel routes. In the neighborhood of Wellington alone some 30 cars are operating on routes from 15 to 125 miles in length, the main service being from Wellington to Wanganui. Ostensibly catering for intertown traffic, it actually does a little more than one-fifth interior traffic as against four-fifths through traffic. The quicker service and cheaper rates charged, added to the fact that connections with other bus lines are conveniently made, have diverted traffic from the railways.

Painful Memory

"One of my most bitter recollections," related J. Fuller Gloom, "was when, as a young fellow, I was rude and impertinent to a man much older than myself. I talked back to him and otherwise acted smart until he picked up a club and whacked me on the head with it, knocking me flat. Afterwards he kicked me soundly. The remembrance of the incident always comes up to take all the joy out of bright remarks at the expense of other people whenever I am tempted to utter them."—Exchange.

Main Causes of Death

Fifteen principal causes of death are listed by statisticians as follows: Pneumonia, consumption, heart disease, diarrheal diseases, kidney diseases, zepoexy, cancer, old age, bronchitis, cholera infantum, debility, inflammation of the brain and meninx, diphtheria, typhoid and premature birth.

Best Plants for Hedges

Privet, locust, osage orange, buckthorn and cockspur thorn, rose of Sharon and the Japanese berry are among the best of the old-fashioned plants used for hedges, juniper, box, hemlock, and spruce found satisfactory.

Islands Ruled by Whites

The eastern half of the island of New Guinea, with a number of adjoining islands, are attached to Australia, partly under mandate of the League of Nations. New Zealand holds mandate for western Samoa, the British rule include Fiji, Tonga, Phoenix, Gilbert and Ellice groups, part of the Solomon Islands, and scattering of others of less importance. The New Hebrides group under the joint administration of French and English officials.

Best Plants for Hedges

Privet, locust, osage orange, buckthorn and cockspur thorn, rose of Sharon and the Japanese berry are among the best of the old-fashioned plants used for hedges, juniper, box, hemlock, and spruce found satisfactory.

CALIFORNIA	BAKER'S COCOA	FANCY GEORGIA	SALTESEA CLAM	FANCY NO 1
Oranges	or Chocolate	PEACHES	Chowder	NEW LONG ISLAND
DOZEN,	1/2 lb., 17c	Qt., 18c; 4 qt. basket, 50c	Pt. can, 18c; qt. can, 33c	Potatoes
40-50-60c	FINEST FRESH CREAMERY		STRICTLY FRESH	pk. 55c
S. & W. FANCY ORANGE MARMALADE 1 lb. jar, 35c	Butter lb. 48c	ROSE'S 73 FRANKLIN STREET. TWO PHONES 1124-1125.	Eggs DOZEN 45c	LARGE, WHITE, FAT NEW SHORT MACKEREL, 2 for 25c

California Turkeys CANTALOUPEs 10c	Porterhouse Steak, lb. 42c	Round Steak, lb. 38c	Georgia WATERMELONS
3 Packages CHIPS 25c	Sirloin Steak, lb. 40c	Roasting Chickens, lb. 50c	Fresh Jumbo CELERY HEARTS 20c
1 lb. Can CRISCO 23c	Pork Chops, lb. 42-45c	Fowls, lb. 45c	Fancy Sun-kist LEMONS, doz. 35c
10 Cakes Fels Naptha SOAP 55c	Roasting Pork Loin, lb. 42c	Pot Roast Beef, lb. 28c	Fancy New SWEET POTATOES, 3 lbs. 25c
Palm Olive SOAP, cake 7c	Leg Spring Lamb, lb. 42c	Hamburg Steak, lb. 25c	White or Yellow ONIONS, 4 lbs. 25c
3 Cakes LUX Toilet SOAP 25c	Shoulder Lamb Chops, lb. 42c	Plate Beef, lb. 12c	GRAPE FRUIT, each 10c
	Breast Lamb, lb. 25c	Chuck Steak, lb. 28c
	Salt Belly Pork, lb. 32c	Plate Corned Beef, lb. 14c
	Cala Hams, lb. 27c	Roasting Veal, lb. 35-38c
	Regular Hams, whole, lb. 40c	Veal Chops, lb. 35-38c
	Smoked Ox Tongue, whole, lb. 45c	Stewing Veal, lb. 30c
	Tender Rolls, lb. 50c	Breast Veal, lb. 22c

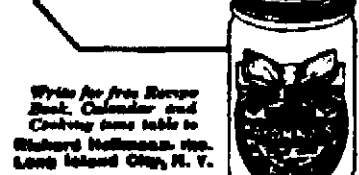

Fresh Made S. & W. Rasp. and Strawberry Preserves, 1 lb. jar 40c French's Mustard, 2 jars 25c

N. B. C. SUGAR WAFERS	Rose's Cloudy Ammonia, large quart bottle 25c	Home Made N. Y. State Cheese, lb. 29c	FORST'S FORMOST
Nabiscoes	Blackberries	Star Naphtha Soap Powder, large package 19c	Veal Leaf, lb. 35c
Andas	Blackberries	Kellogg's All Bran, Large 25c pkg. 19c	Mixed Ham, lb. 35c
Lotus	Blackberries		Frankfurter, lb. 35c
Festines	Head Lettuce 10c		Ham Bologna, lb. 45c
Harlequins	Home Grown Tomatoes, lb. 15c		Bologna, lb. 30c
	Home Grown Cucumbers 3-10c		Beans, by ship, lb. 45c
			Ham Leaf, lb. 55c

Green Peas, Qt., 10c	Home Grown Peppers, 3 for 10c	Beets, Carrots, Dutch, 5c	Creek Neck Squash, 2 for 15c	New Cabbages, Head, 12-15c	Sweet Corn, Doz., 5c	Spanish Onions, 5c	Green or Wax Beans, 3 qts., 25c
----------------------	-------------------------------	---------------------------	------------------------------	----------------------------	----------------------	--------------------	---------------------------------

"It is so warm I do not want
"A single thing to eat".
"Just try Blue Ribbon Salad, dear."
"And you'll forget the heat".

HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON Mayonnaise

Weak, Puny Children Get Better Quickly

Right Way to Put on Good Flesh and Make Them Grow Up Strong and Vigorous.

Don't take any chances when your frail child is underweight and perhaps has signs of rickets.

Go right to any druggist and get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. You can get 60 tablets for 60 cents and as they are sugar coated children like to take them.

There's a lot of vitamins in McCoy's—just the kind needed to bring strength and health to your child and give him the happy start in life that is his privilege.

McCoy's tablets produce flesh—one thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days and remember if McCoy's does not increase weight 5 pounds in 30 days you can have your money back.

But don't forget the child—no matter how timid, backward and weak he is to you notice a difference for the better in just a few days. Ask for McCoy's—it's a great summer tonic.

Early Rulers of Greece

The name "Hellenes" is given to a dynasty of Greek rulers that governed Egypt from 223 to 30 B. C., a period of 193 years. The dynasty was founded by Ptolemy I, surnamed Soter, who, at the time of the death of Alexander the Great (323 B. C.), was governor of Egypt, and after the division of the empire into four monarchies became king of that country. The dynasty of the Ptolemies comprised 14 sovereigns. On the death of Cleopatra, the last of the line, in 30 B. C., Egypt became a province of Rome.

Plenty of Action On Friday Night

At Kingston Fair Grounds When Five Fast Bouts Will Be Staged—Buck of Poughkeepsie After Fisher's Scalp.

With the fights getting livelier at each smoker and the audience getting bigger it is expected that the third open-air performance to be held at the Fair Grounds Friday night will reach the peak of success from every angle.

Battling Buck of Poughkeepsie is pining to give Charlie Fisher the battle of his life in the main fistic match of the evening. Local fight fans know what Charlie can do with his mitts on such occasions and the spectators need not have any fear that the main match on the card will lack action. This bout is slated for six rounds.

Another local fighter from East Kingston, Vance Harter, who is equally as popular with the fistic followers, is scheduled to go six rounds with Young Walcott of Newburgh. Kid Brown of Saugerties will meet Fast Black of East Kingston for another six round scrap. Billy Little of New Paltz and Johnny Curdino of Kingston will go four rounds as will Frenchy De Gigg and Joe Maccararo.

Feature Matches At Seabright

Helen Willis Will Play Eleanor Goss and Vincent Richards Will Meet Francis Hunter.

Seabright, N. J., Aug. 5.—Miss Helen Willis, American tennis champion, will play Miss Eleanor Goss of New York in a semi-final of the women's singles at the lawn tennis and cricket club here this afternoon. In another feature match Vincent Richards will meet Francis Hunter in the men's semi-finals.

Taketcha Harada of Japan opposes Spain's favorite son, Manuel Alonso, and Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California stacks up against Mrs. Mollie Mallory of New York. In addition there will be semi-finals in the women's and men's doubles.

Tennis lightning flashed yesterday when Harada eliminated William M. Johnston of San Francisco and Hunter defeated B. I. C. Norton of St. Louis, ranked in America's first ten.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Yesterday's Big League Results And Today's Games.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

American League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	57	36	.611
Cleveland	50	43	.538
Philadelphia	51	50	.510
Detroit	54	53	.506
Chicago	53	52	.506
Washington	51	50	.505
St. Louis	44	60	.423
Boston	39	70	.353

*Does not include 2nd game.

National League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	57	42	.576
Cincinnati	58	45	.563
St. Louis	54	48	.529
Chicago	53	50	.513
New York	51	50	.505
Brooklyn	52	51	.505
Boston	41	60	.406
Philadelphia	39	59	.395

International League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Baltimore	72	42	.632
Toronto	70	47	.598
Newark	68	46	.596
Buffalo	69	48	.590
Rochester	56	59	.485
Jersey City	54	60	.474
Syracuse	44	71	.383
Reading	27	87	.235

Eastern League.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Providence	66	38	.635
Bridgeton	63	41	.606
New Haven	60	45	.571
Springfield	54	48	.529
Hartford	52	54	.491
Albany	49	55	.471
Waterbury	38	65	.375
Pittsfield	32	69	.317

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

National League.
St. Louis 5; Brooklyn 4.
Boston 14; Pittsburgh 6.
Pittsburgh 5; Boston 2.
Chicago 7; Philadelphia 5.
Only games scheduled.

American League.
Cleveland 4; New York 2.
Detroit 5; Washington 4.
Chicago 7; Boston 3.
St. Louis 3; Philadelphia 1.
Washington 11; Detroit 7.

International League.
Jersey City 11; Reading 1.
Jersey City 4; Reading 3.
Newark 8; Baltimore 3.
Toronto 5; Syracuse 3.
Toronto 7; Syracuse 2.
Buffalo 5; Rochester 1.
Buffalo 4; Rochester 1.

Eastern League.
Pittsburgh 4; Springfield 1.
Springfield 10; Pittsfield 1.
Albany 10; Hartford 6.
New Haven 2; Bridgeport 1.
Providence 2; Waterbury 1.

GAMES SCHEDULED TODAY.

National League.
Cincinnati at New York, clear.
St. Louis at Brooklyn, clear.
Chicago at Philadelphia, clear.
Pittsburgh at Boston, cloudy.

American League.
New York at Cleveland, cloudy.
Boston at Chicago, cloudy.
Washington at Detroit, part cloudy.

Philadelphia at St. Louis, clear.

International League.
Syracuse at Newark, clear.
Buffalo at Rochester, clear.
Only games today.

Eastern League.
Albany at Hartford.
Springfield at Pittsfield.
Bridgeport at Waterbury.
Providence at New Haven.

Cobb Gives Ruth Sporting Chance

Babe Ruth on Left. Ty Cobb on the Right.

To the everlasting credit of Cobb, it must be said that there is no manager in the American league who gives Ruth as good a sporting chance as the Georgian. Where Speaker orders Ruth walked on every possible occasion, Cobb is willing to match the prowess of his pitchers against Ruth's slugging ability.

A great hitter himself, one who realizes that the fans paid to see him hit just as they now pay to see the Babe, Cobb is willing to play fair with his patrons.

Speaker also was a great hitter, but this fact never seems to enter his head when he plans his campaign against the Yanks. No team walks Ruth as much as Cleveland, and off-hand I should say that since coming to New York Ruth has received one-quarter of his bases on balls from Indian pitchers.

Perhaps Speaker is superstitious. Lee Fohl lost his job in Cleveland when Ruth hit a homer with the bases full. Fohl yanked a right-hander, who had been going pretty good, and sent in Combe, a southpaw, to face Ruth, a left-hander. The Babe cleaned decks, and the next day this Speaker was made manager of the Indians.—Fred Lieb in New York Telegram.

Sporting Squibs

Two Scandinavian oarsmen have started to paddle a twenty-five-foot rowboat from London to Calcutta, a distance of 12,000 miles.

M. Minguand, a professional billiard player of Paris, was the first to use the leather-tipped cue.

Eddie Held of the Algonquin Golf club, St. Louis, 1923 titleholder, again won the trans-Mississippi golf championship.

John L. Sullivan, who was 5 feet 10 1/2 inches tall, was one of the few prominent heavyweight pugilists who have been under 6 feet.

D. G. A. Lowe set what was claimed as a world's record at Stamford Bridge by running 100 yards in 1:10.25.

The public playground idea, which had its birth in Boston in 1855, has since spread to 748 cities and towns in 45 states and Canada.

Bobby Jones, twenty-three, is the youngest veteran in American sports. He has competed in sixteen national championships.

Prince Sumi, fourth son of the emperor and empress of Japan, who is eleven years old, is becoming a juvenile archery champion.

It was Burns who pleaded for the gift to see ourselves as others see us, and that was long before golf pants.

More than 15,000 trotters and pacers are in training for the 1926 campaign in the United States. There will be no fewer than 1,400 race meetings to be held during the current season.

There's one of them in every office: The bird who is now re-enacting the British open golf championship, stroke by stroke, with an umbrella.

The famous yachting cup symbolizing supremacy on the water has been successfully defended by America since 1851, when it was donated by Queen Victoria.

San Francisco enthusiasts will endeavor to raise $50,000 to assure the success of the Pacific coast yachting and aquatic championship regatta scheduled for August 21 to 29.

Gehrig Is Big Help

Above is shown "Pucker Lou" Gehrig, former Columbia star and now regular first baseman with the New York Yankees, whose playing this year stamps him as one of the best first basemen in the game.

Changing Opinions

However certain we may be today that we will not change our opinion we are very likely to do so. There is nothing certain but taxes and death. Different circumstances tomorrow compel intelligent people at least to revise their opinion.—Giff.

United States Supreme in Billiards for Years

The United States was supreme in billiards for years, with Willie Hoppe holding the leading crown, but at present the lead is held across the waters with Erich Hagenlocher and Edouard Horemans ahead of the field.

Frederick S. Hovey of the executive committee, National Association of Amateur Billiard Players, believes Europe is going to continue this advantage, basing his opinion on comparative showings of European and American amateurs in this year's tournaments.

In Europe the amateurs that competed for continental honors represented Holland, Belgium and France. Matches in the European tournament are of 400 points compared to the 300 points that constitute matches on this side.

The highest grand average in the American play was 10.427, and that was less than the grand average of the last man in the European tournament, an average of 12.10.

Donoghue to Retire

Steve Donoghue, England's crack cricketer, is to retire from riding and is to start training horses. Donoghue has been riding for more than twenty years and has been on the backs of six Derby winners—three in succession—and is also a rodeo champion, a Derby winner in the United States in a match against Zer.

Arthur Fletcher Cries for More Scrap in Game

Modern baseball will lose its attraction for the public unless the frustrating of rival players is replaced by the combativeness of the past, in the opinion of Arthur Fletcher, aggressive leader of the Philadelphia Nationals.

"There is too much hand-shaking and back-patting nowadays," said the former shortstop of the Giants. "The players greet each other like traveling salesmen meeting on the road. Things which used to be secret's years ago are now discussed by the players."

"The fans like to feel that the players are opposed to each other in spirit. I am against cowardice. The game has grown out of that state. But that does not mean we expect players to act like a lot of Little Lord Fauntleroy."

"We need to regard the players of an opposing club as deadly enemies while the game is on, but now there is too great a tendency to turn the big leagues into college fraternities."

Family Born in Three

"There" is the magic number of a household in Fantasyland, Connecticut, where subjects have arrived for the third time. The mother, Mrs. Cattie Jackson, is herself one of a trio, and her husband is also a triplet.

Dempsey Signs For Fight Today

As His Contract With Kearns Expired Wednesday—Rickard to Ask Commission for Fight to Charge $50 for Highest Priced Seat—Phelan Will Decide Next Week.

New York, Aug. 5.—Within a matter of six days all the "dirt" on the Dempsey-Tunney transaction will be neatly swept into one dust pan. Within six days, it will be definitely determined whether Jack Dempsey will defend his heavy-weight title at the Yankee Stadium in one of the greatest money matches of recent years or never will fight again. Even the congenial sap knows that if Dempsey doesn't go for an airing this time, he will be all washed up as an active heavy-weight champion for ever henceforth.

One of the formal steps toward making the bout an actuality may be taken today with the signing of the champion to a definite contract for the Tunney match. According to the way Rickard tells it, all he has on Dempsey at this moment is an option on his services.

That may be just so much tincture of apple sauce, designed to give Jack Kearns the run-around when he tries to collect his managerial third by the terms of the contract which expired yesterday. Certainly the fact that Dempsey, who apparently believes in signing first and examining the contents afterward, has neglected to amend the dotted line until this late date may be regarded significant.

However, the mere gesture of signing means little in comparison with the possible developments of the next few days. Tomorrow Rickard probably will give the state athletic commission a lot of slick, city talk about raising the ring-side ante for the fight to $40 or $50.

I wouldn't go so far as to say that there wouldn't be any fight if the boy friend doesn't have his way in this matter but the chances are good that he will not have the old enthusiasm to push the project as it must be pushed, in case they insist on the old $25 limit. They probably won't, however, the boys being quite obliging about jumping through the hoop every time Mr. Rickard cracks the whip.

This transaction, in turn, will lose caste in comparison with the projected developments of next week when Col. John Phelan, chairman of the license committee, returns to his desk. Nobody knows what the good colonel will do about Dempsey's application for a license. If he says no, the fight proposition will be tender than the butt of an old cigar until such time as Rickard may decide to take the case into the courts.

This idea has been one of the stock wise-cracks along Broadway for weeks, yet it is not quite the odds-on bet it might appear to be at first blush. They don't decide that sort of questions in court in a half hour and the proposed date of the fight is only a little more than a month away. At this stage of the proceedings, Rickard can put his time to better advantage other than meeting around in a court of law. Col. Phelan, therefore, is sitting right up in the driver's seat on the entire enterprise. It is hardly credible that he will laugh the thing off after the commission "yessed" it with a 2 to 1 vote. For one thing, the match will mean upward of $100,000 in state taxes. For another, our Mr. Rickard has gone to endless pains and the gentleman's record is that he never does something for nothing.

The Roundout A. C. Wins

The Roundout A. C. defeated McNally's Mystics by a score of 10 to 8 at Block Park on Wednesday evening. The R. A. C. started the game with a bang when they scored six runs in the first inning. Chet Krom knocked a home run with two on in this inning. Black started for the Mystics but was found for 14 hits and was finally replaced by Steve Connelly. Charlie Hertica also got a three-bagger and Carr got a home run for the Mystics. Peters after having a week's rest was called upon to do the hurling for the R. A. C., and he pitched an excellent game. This was the beginning of a five game series. The next will be played at the Athletic Field.

Last Night's Fights

At New York—Harry Ebbets, Freeport, N. Y., welterweight, knocked out Harry Thorpe, Bridgeport, Conn., in the third round.

At Los Angeles—Tommy O'Brien, Santa Monica, Cal., lightweight, defeated Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, 10 rounds. The title was not at stake.

Leading Major League Hitter

Player and Club	G.	AB.	R.	H.	A.
Griffith, Tigers	50	227	40	80	1
Bresler, Reds	71	281	46	86	1
L. Bell, Cardinals	104	391	87	122	1
Traylor, Pirates	97	388	69	128	1
Herman, Dodgers	96	323	48	119	1

Player and Club	G.	AB.	R.	H.	A.
Fuhrer, Tigers	64	218	26	66	1
Burns, Indians	103	410	70	122	1
Ruth, Yankees	103	341	64	126	1
Goslin, Senators	94	373	60	124	1
Meusel, Yankees	66	260	32	95	1

Leader a year ago today: Speaker, Indians, 380.

Player and Club	No.
Hartnett, Chicago	1
Heathcote, Chicago	1
Shorrel, St. Louis	1
Williams, Philadelphia	1
Wrightstone, Philadelphia	1

Player and Club	No.
Barrett, Chicago	1
J. Harris, Washington	2
Todd, Boston	1
Williams, St. Louis	1

Leader a year ago today: Speaker, Indians, 380.

Player and Club	No.
Hartnett, Chicago	1
Heathcote, Chicago	1
Shorrel, St. Louis	1
Williams, Philadelphia	1
Wrightstone, Philadelphia	1

Leader a year ago today: Speaker, Indians, 380.

Player and Club	No.
Hartnett, Chicago	1
Heathcote, Chicago	1
Shorrel, St. Louis	1
Williams, Philadelphia	1
Wrightstone, Philadelphia	1

Leader a year ago today: Speaker, Indians, 380.

Player and Club	No.
Hartnett, Chicago	1
Heathcote, Chicago	1
Shorrel, St. Louis	1
Williams, Philadelphia	1
Wrightstone, Philadelphia	1

Leader a year ago today: Speaker, Indians, 380.

Valuable Real Estate
Of the $310,000,000 of private wealth in this country, $174,000,000 is in real estate.

"Camels"—the word of an experienced smoker

MILLIONS who've tried them all, who could well afford to pay a higher price, become wedded to Camels. Each year Camel wins the favor of a growing army of experienced smokers.

Camel leads because of Camel quality. No other cigarette made can match Camel goodness. Camel is made of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, masterfully blended as in no other cigarette to give you all of their mild and mellow flavors.

In all tobacco time there has never been such a favorite as Camel, for Camel goodness has no equal. For sheer quality of tobacco, for deep-down smoking enjoyment, for favor with smokers, Camel stands alone, supreme among cigarettes.

Camel is the world's favorite because Camel pleasure never palls. You simply can't smoke enough of them to tire your taste. No one ever smoked a Camel and regretted it. Camels never leave a cigarette after-taste.

We believe that your first real smoking pleasure will come when you taste the smoke from the finest tobaccos nature produces. The world's largest tobacco organization invites you to try now the favorite of millions of experienced smokers.

Have a Camel!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1926.

Sun. rise, 1:45; set, 7:22.
Weather clear.

The Temperature.

The lowest point registered by the Freeman thermometer last night was 74 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 82 degrees.

Weather Forecast.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Eastern New York: Partly cloudy today and Friday, probably showers in central and north portions, rising temperature Friday in extreme south portion.

BUSINESS NOTICES

MANFRED BROBERG, Foot Specialist, 65 St. James St., corner Clinton Ave. Phone 741; hours 9 to 5.

CHAS. EDWARDS, Chiropractor, 297 Washington avenue, Daily 9 to 5 and 7-8 p. m. Phone 1633-M.

JOHN E. KELLY, Graduate Chiropractor, 286 Wall St., Tel. 420.

PETER C. OSTERHOUDT and SON, contractors, builders & jobbers, 80 Lucas avenue Phone 624-B.

THE CADDY DENTAL OFFICE, Specializes in bridge work, plate work and painless extractions.

MOVING, TRUCKING, EXPRESS, Local and long distance. Masten & Strubel, 142 Broadway. Phone 2112-M.

DR. FREDERICK W. HOLCOMB, Announces that he will not have office hours on Saturday evenings during July, August and September.

Special sale on "Kingston Maid House Dresses" and factory mill ends. DAVID WEIL, 16 Broadway, bargain house.

Van Eiten & Hogan, 150-156 Wall street, moving and trucking of all kinds. Local and long distance. Heavy machinery moving a specialty.

General Trucking-Machinery work, closed vans for furniture, packing and driving done personally. Goods insured while in transit. New York trips weekly. S. TOMPKINS, 12-26 Clinton avenue. Phone 649.

The State Window Cleaning Co., 35 Brook street, Kingston, N. Y. We clean everything under the sun. Phone 2156-M.

JAMES V. PFEIFFER, LANDSCAPE SERVICE, Grading and building drives, sod, soil, and gravel for sale. Call 3-F-12.

COLONIAL TRUCKING CO., Piano hoisting, dump trucks, moving and hauling. 642 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. Phone 757.

TRUCKING, MOVING, EXPRESS—Amell Brothers, 27 O'Neil street, Kingston. Phone 2678.

GEORGE W. PARISH & SON, Contractor and dealer in metal ceilings. 370 Haverbrook avenue, Kingston, N. Y. Phone 631.

Parish Tax Service, Sevens for funerals and weddings. Phone 20-W.

Concrete chimney blocks with tile in them. Lawatch, 51 Summer street. Telephone 185.

STEAMSHIP TICKETS, To all parts of the world. RICHARD MEYER, 40 John street.

Nice sedans for tours, weddings or funerals. Phone 17.

FURNITURE MOVING, Local and long distance. New York trips regular. Padded van. Goods insured while in transit. Kingston Transfer Co., 763 Broadway, A. Kresig. Phone 1046-J.

When it's trucking, local or long distance, call 555. FINE'S baggage express, 21 Clinton avenue.

EXPRESS, TRUCKING, MOVING, Mehm Brothers Express. Phone 2533.

PAINTING AND PAPER HANGING, Let me do your work. Prices reasonable. H. Nacholdt, Phone 1457-J.

STORK BROS. TAXI SERVICE, Day or night. Phone 2100.

Indict Doctors For Bootlegging

Thirty-seven Doctors, Thirty Drugists, and Sixteen Whiskey Agents in New York Indicted for "Prescription Bootlegging."

New York, Aug. 5.—A drive against "prescription bootlegging" in this city had reached its climax today with the indictment of 27 doctors, 30 drugists, 16 whiskey agents and four drug corporations by the federal grand jury for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

It is alleged that the whiskey agents paid the doctors $100 a week for prescriptions filled out with fictitious names, causing the withdrawal by drugists last year of 500,000 gallons of whiskey more than the quantity for which legal prescriptions had been issued.

The indicted men will be arraigned next week.

Forgiven

An art-school teacher had a fixed rule that his pupils were not to smoke in his studio.

One day, however, he entered the room and noticed that one young man had a lighted cigarette in his fingers, which he was endeavoring to conceal.

The master went up to him. "That's a curious kind of a pencil you have there, my young friend," he remarked sarcastically. "May I ask what you propose to draw with it?" "Smoke," was the quick-witted answer.

Professional Pride

"Let me down, Spike!" Second-story Pete whispered excitedly to his pal, who had given him a "leg up" to the window. "We can't kick into dis joint."

"Smatter?" was the nervous question. "Did youse tumble de alarm?" "Now, but de're havin' some kinda swell reception, an—"

"Well," interrupted his buddy, "what's dat got to do with us?" "It's got plenty to do," was the emphatic reply. "I ain't gonna crash into a swell-dressed mob like dat in a torn sweater."—Farm Life.

BUSINESS NOTICES

Dr. Katherine Todd, Osteopathic Physician, 261 Fair St. Phone 2327.

We have just received a new importation of the celebrated Munich Austrian Dinner Ware, which has become again an open stock pattern. GREGORY & CO.

William Miller Taxis. Phone 17.

Light trucking of any kind. J. A. Williams & Sons, 94 Abrayn street. Phone 656-W.

The Daily Freeman is on sale at the following stands of the Schullis News Agency in New York city: Forty-second street and Sixth avenue (southeast corner). Forty-second street and Park avenue (in front of Grand Central Station).

KINGSTON TO NEW YORK CITY BUS LINE.

John J. Van Gonsle, proprietor. Phone Kingston 639. In effect May 21, 1926. Pierce-Arrow Parlor Cars (Daylight Saving Time)

Daily a. m. Daily p. m.

Lv. Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, N. Y. 7:30 1:00 5:30

Lv. New Palitz Hotel, New Palitz 8:10 1:40 6:10

Ar. Roosevelt Hotel, N. Y. (Vanderbilt Ave. and 45th St.) 11:50 5:20 9:50

Returning Daily a. m. Daily p. m.

Lv. Roosevelt Hotel, N. Y. 8:00 1:00 6:30

Ar. New Palitz Hotel, New Palitz 11:50 4:50 10:20

Ar. Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, N. Y. 12:25 5:25 10:55

Fare one way $2, round trip ticket $5. Good for return trip within 14 days. Additional buses week ends and holidays during summer season. Time table and rates subject to change without notice.

Buddhists Now Claim

Discovery of America

Five Buddhist priests from China discovered America. This is the claim made by Sze Ton Pa, director of the Chinese Information Service in France, reported by the Pathfinder Magazine. These priests in 455 discovered an "Immense land" lying 3,250 leagues east of China. They named the land "Fou Chang," and, according to Sze, from the description which they gave of it there is no possible doubt that it was the American continent. Nearly forty years later Fou Chang was visited by a Buddhist priest named Hui Shen. Where he landed is not known; but there is a legend in Mexico about "Halperochia," who, Sze claims, was the Buddha priest who dressed in a long robe and taught the inhabitants a new religion and philosophy. In this connection Sze reminds scholars of the subject that the first Spanish explorers who landed in South America and Mexico were struck by the resemblance of the native architecture to that of the Far East. For instance, one god had an elephant head, which certainly must have been of Asiatic origin. A figure of Buddha, says Sze, was found in Mexico; it was squatting in Oriental fashion. Even in Colorado Chinese legends were found.

Find Music Beneficial

in Mental Disorders

Music has recently been used in prison and insane asylums to give pleasure to the inmates and to arouse a normal community spirit among them. The results have been very gratifying, according to an article in Welfare Magazine.

Music furnishes a safe emotional outlet and has a decided relation to human conduct. Persons suffering from mental disorders behaved sanely and normally, some for the first time in many years, when influenced by music. No claim is made to cure or improve abnormal mental conditions by music, but great pleasure and benefit may be derived from group singing, bands and the like.

The cost of bringing music to state wards is relatively small and it is thought that it may be counterbalanced by the amount of property saved from destruction when the emotional energy of certain violent types is given an outlet through music.—Herald.

She was only the daughter of a mayor but she knew her oats.

Office Supplies

We have a complete line of equipment for offices.

Steel Filing Cabinets, Safes,

Blank Books (bound or loose leaf), Eyelet Machines,

Adding Machines, Paper

Punches, Metal Cash Boxes

and all other accessories for a modern, well-appointed office.

Picture frames made to order a specialty. Prompt and satisfactory work.

Forsyth & Davis, Inc.

32 Main St., Kingston, N. Y.

Telephone 708

(Where Quality and Economy Meet.)

The Sandman

Martha Martin

THE ELVES' PARTY

"COME to the ball," said Effie Elf. "We are giving a ball, we want every one to come."

And she went around asking all the friends of the Elves, and the friends of the Elves are many.

"You'll be sure to come, won't you, Fairy Princess Twilight-Bell?" she asked. And Fairy Princess Twilight-Bell accepted with much joy.

"You'll be sure to come, won't you, Fairy Princess Joy?" she asked. And Fairy Princess Joy accepted with much joy.

Peter accepted for all of his family. She invited the Bogey family and the Elf family and she invited the Cloud Fairies.

Some one asked her how she expected to have all of the guests come. It would not be possible to have the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers and the others all at the same time.

Effie Elf invited her guests to come in the afternoon and to remain until night. Some of the guests had other engagements and told her they could not stay all those hours, but they could stay for a while and that pleased Effie Elf.

Well, the party began. And all the guests came. The Fairies and the Brownies, the Gnomes and the members of the Bogey and Elf families, Witty Witch and old Mr. Giant—every one of them appeared.

And then, all of a sudden it began to rain and then every one remembered that it had been said that the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren had all been invited.

And how dark they made it and how they did pour down and what a splashing and a splashing they made. But Effie Elf had called her guests to come within the great Elfland tent so they could look out from every side without getting wet.

Before long Mr. Sun appeared right while the King of the Clouds was coming down, and he called out: "Hello, King, how are you?" It shows what a high-up creature Mr. Sun is that he feels entitled to speak to a king in such a fashion. And the King of the Clouds liked to be greeted in that way by so noble and high a creature as Mr. Sun.

And then appeared the Rainbow Brothers and Mother Rainbow looked over them. All the Rainbow children came, too, for Mother Rainbow always brings her children with her. They were orange and green and pink and lavender.

Oh, then came the Cloud Fairies in fluffy white silvery costumes, and some wore sashes of yellow golden cloud silk which were very gorgeous. Later Mr. Moon came peeping over a hill and Mr. Sun excused himself politely after a bit. But oh, such a gorgeous ball it was, and every guest came to it!

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Many Others.

Fairy Princess Joy said she wouldn't miss it for anything.

"You'll be sure to come, won't you, Fairy Ybab?" she asked. And Fairy Ybab said she would come and that the Fairies' orchestra would come, too.

"Then," said Fairy Ybab, "when the members of the Elves' orchestra want to dance we will play for them."

And then Effie Elf asked the rest of the Fairies, and all of the Brownies, and Billie Brownie and his brother, Beanie, accepted for the whole family.

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

She invited the King of the Clouds and the Army of Raindrops and the Mist grandchildren and the Rainbow Brothers. She invited the Gnomes and

Effie Elf invited old Mr. Giant and Witty Witch and she invited Mr. Sun and Mr. Moon.

Auditorium Theatre

FIVE GROVE AVENUE, AT BROADWAY
Owned by The Elks Lodge, 1234 Broadway, N.Y.
Evenings—Adults, 25c; Children, (under 12) 15c.
Saturday and Holiday Matinee Same as Evening. Performances—2:30

VIRGINIA VALLI in "UP THE LADDER"

COUNTRY STORE $5 in Cash Prices. Twenty other valuable prizes.

TOPICS OF THE DAY AND A COMEDY.

Tomorrow—Edmond Lowe in "THE KING HARRIER."

(No matinee.)

OPPENHEIMER BROS.

THE SUPREME SECURITY.

Diamonds have always been regarded as an investment. Care must be used in judging and selecting. It will be a pleasure to show our extensive collection of mounted and unmounted stones and our beautifully designed mountings of platinum, white or green gold.

OPPENHEIMER BROS.

578 BROADWAY.

For Summer Home or Camp

Regal Portable Phonograph $15.00

Small Victrola—New $17.50

Portable Victrola $25.00

Portable Victrola $35.00

The New Orthophonic Victrola from $85.00 to $300.00

E. WINTER'S SONS, Inc.

MUSIC STORE. 326 WALL ST. Opp. Reade's Theatre.

CLAMBAKE

At TORRINO'S INN

ASHOKAN SOUTH BOULEVARD

At Marle Heights.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8th

RAIN OR SHINE.

First Bake 2 p. m., Second Bake 5 p. m. on

TICKETS, $2.50

Western Meat & Poultry Market

SPECIALS FOR THIS WEEK

Hams, from 9 to 12 lbs., lb. 34c

Legs of Lamb, lb. 30c

Lean Plate Beef 2 lbs. for 15c

Dry Salt Pork, lb. 18c

Solid Chunks Corned Beef, boneless, lb. 18c

Lean Corned Plate Beef 2 lbs. for 15c

Strips of Bacon 17c

Prime Heavy Western Beef.

Chuck Steak, lb. 18c

Chuck Roast, lb. 15c

Cross Rib Roast, lb. 18c

Solid Chunks Beef, lb. 18c

Soup Meat, lb. 8c

Fresh Ground Hamburger Steak, lb. 16c

Short Steaks, lb. 25c

Solid Chunks Pork to Roast, lb. 28c

Pork Steaks or Chops, lb. 30c

Small Boned Smoked Ham, lb. 30c

Lamb Chops, lb. 28c

Solid Chunks Lamb for Roast, lb. 28c

Veal Chops, lb. 25c

Veal for roast, lb. 22c

We have live chickens and we dress them while you wait.

38 EAST STRAND, KINGSTON, N. Y. CALL 1183.

ALL COOKS LOOK ALIKE

To the hungry man, but what a disappointment when the poor-looking, greasy egg, a sunny-side-up egg or a "broken yolk" quite suddenly and the table looks anything but satisfying to a careful appetite. When in doubt as to Department.

MAKE YOUR DIAMOND GROW AS YOU SEE IT.

DIAMOND PROSPERITY

Builds a "Saving" Reputation!

'Getting Ahead'

Is really good "Comp." CONVENIENT PAYMENTS.

SAFFORD & SCUDGER, 200 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.